Guitar Shopping

If you have an interest in very special used guitars, stop by the McKenzie River Music store. Owner Bob November has an excellent selection of high grade used guitars, specializing in Gibson, Fender and Martin makes. Bob feels there is an abnormally high percentage of the population here interested in guitar and live music. Many of these people he sees as "children of the sixties," people who experienced real change in their lives and lifestyles as ushered in by the guitar. And essentially, the guitar became a way of expression for this new generation.

McKenzie River Music buys, sells, trades and has full repair facilities. Buying a used guitar made in the 60s or 70s would cost about half of what that same guitar would cost new. A vintage or classic guitar would cost about the same as a new guitar.

McKenzie River Music is located at 523 East 13th Street.
