

November 18 - November 25, 1982

What's Happening

This Week in Eugene & Springfield

A Weekly Guide to Events and Entertainment

Vol. I No. 10 Nov. 18, 1982

Published Every Thursday

Thursday 18

Speakers

Rosa Maria Ruiz, Bolivian Human Rights Activist, will speak at 7:30 pm in the Latin American Cultural Center, 1236 Kincaid, on her work in the rural mining communities of Bolivia and the reforms needed to bring hope to the people. $1. Sponsored by the Eugene Council for Human Rights in Latin America, 484-5867. Ruiz will focus on Bolivia returning to civilian rule after 18 years of military government.

Women and Counseling: an alternative for women and men is the title of a lecture at University of Oregon, Gilbert 341. Call Women's Referral and Resource at 686-3327 for more information.

Women's Rights in Bolivia will be discussed by Bolivian human rights activist Rosa Maria Ruiz at 3:30 pm in Room 121A U of O Law School; cost is $1. Co-sponsored by several University organizations including Women's Law Forum.

Russell Sadler, journalist and broadcast commentator, will speak on the gubernatorial race and political public relations at 6:30 pm at the Eugene Hilton. Cost is $2, and the public is invited to attend this meeting of the International Assoc. of Business Communicators.

Allan Winkler, UO historian, discusses "20th Century America and the Impact of War" at 8 pm at the Eugene Conference Center adjacent to the Hilton Hotel, 7th and Oak. He will evaluate the homefront response to various wars, including the fluctuations in popular support. Free. Part of the annual Forum Lecture Series sponsored by the U of O Committee for the Arts and Humanities.

Theatre

A Company of Wayward Saints by George Herman, a comedy about a commedia dell'arte troupe opens at Very Little Theatre, 2350 Hillyard at 8:15 pm. Tickets cost $4. Call box office 344-7751 to reserve tickets.

Oh, What a Lovely War! plays tonight at the Arena Theatre, Villard Hall, U of O, at 8 pm. Tickets are $5 general public, $3.25 UO students and senior citizens, $4 other students.

Meetings

Parents Without Partners orientation for new members at 7 pm, general meeting 8 pm: "Facing Up to Our Fears." Westminster Presbyterian Church, 777 Coburg Road. Call 342-8442 for more information.

State Capitol hearing on Dept. of Human Resources request to require parents receiving public assistance who have a 12 month old or older child to participate in the JOBS program in order to remain eligible for assistance. A second proposal would cause all public assistance recipients failing to comply with the JOBS program to lose food stamp assistance. Votes on these proposals will take place on Friday. Call the toll-free number, 1-800-686-7500 to speak to your representative. Locally, call Client's Council, 342-5167, for more information.

Children

2 Chinese Shadow Puppet Shows for all ages at the Eugene Public Library at 10:30 and 3:30 pm. Free. "Two of Everything" and "The Rooster's Horns."

Concert Music

Oregon Piano Quartet will play works by Gabriel Faure and Johannes Brahms at 8 pm in Beall Concert Hall, University of Oregon. General admission is $2, free to senior citizens, students, and children under 12. Part of the Faculty Artist concert series.

Children's Choral Festival will gather some 2,500 grade school children from 41 Oregon schools at the Hult Center for the Performing Arts. Begins at 10 am, with concerts by six children's choral groups and 10 school singing units, and includes a special 3 pm concert by the Vienna Choir Boys.

Vienna Choir Boys will present a public concert at 8 pm in the Silva Concert Hall; call the Hult Center box office, 687-5000 for ticket information.

Radio

Taylor Made Piano features "Prebop" at 1 pm on KLCC, 89.7 FM, featuring Dizzy Gillespie, Charlie Parker, and others.

A Canticle for Liebowitz, NPR Playhouse Production, plays part 2 of 15, at 7:30 pm on KLCC 89.7 FM.

Boogie Music

James Thornbury Band rocks Old Taylor's from 9:30 pm-1:30 am.

Chuck Berry, at the Hult Center for the Performing Arts, Friday, Nov. 19, at 7 pm and 9:30 pm.

Workshops

Siddha Yoga Meditation Center, 86 W. 25th Ave., offers an experience in meditation and chanting at 7:30 pm; free. This form of meditation is a method of self-discovery that comes naturally while gradually transforming one's experience of living. For more information, call 683-2591.

Toys: Muriel Singer, director of Child Care Inc., will lead an informal discussion of different types of worthwhile toys for children and will explore the link between child abuse and toys from 7-8:30 pm at 169 N Washington St (at the edge of Skippers Butte Park). Free. Call 344-1165 for more information.

Mind As Healer, Mind As Player by Douglas Bloch is free at the Eugene Center for Acupuncture and Acupressure, 1177 Pearl, 341-3593, from 7:30-10 pm.

Learn to make fancy pillows at Jean's Knitting Center; call 343-9916 for details.

List your event FREE

page 11