Announcements

We gave you the wrong phone number to order Innerspace—A Survival Kit for Kids of the 80s and 90s. Call Paula Prober at 343-7659 or write 2936 Willamette, #12. It costs $3.50 (on sale) and encourages children/adolescents to develop self-awareness and imagination.

In January the Museum of Natural History on the UO campus will continue its winter workshops. On Jan 15, for children, Judy Chamard will teach Animal Movements, How and Why. She is a dance and anthropology major. $3.50 members, $4 non-members. On Sunday, Jan 23, Coyote Stories will be told by Barre Toelken (folklore professor), Ed Edmo (Shoshone/Bannock Indian) and George Wasson (Cooos Indian). These are unexpurgated and for adults, but children are welcome. $2.50 members, $3 non-members. Pre-registration, please, 686-3024.

Storm windows are one of the most effective ways to reduce home energy use and heating bills. The Home Energy Assistance Team (HEAT) is sponsoring weekly storm window construction clinics on Saturdays. A $10 shop fee is charged. Materials are available at cost which is currently 70¢ per sq. foot for the finished product. Call Candi at 484-4211, ext. 209 to register. The HEAT Program is sponsored by the Willamette Valley Solar Energy Assoc., EWEB and Lane County OSU Extension Service.

Join the Holiday Project on Christmas Day. They need people to help prepare for and visit nursing homes from 12-3 pm. Call 345-3277 to know more.

Coyote's Dance, a journal of transformation, is now available at local bookstores, newsstands, and restaurants. This new quarterly features prose and poetry and costs $1. Call 964-5561 for information.

The YMCA offers an ongoing program for unemployed women and men who are not currently enrolled in school. The purpose is to provide opportunities for physical exercise and support group participation. Available are the gyms, fitness center, pools, courts (when reservations are cancelled), saunas, steam room, discussion groups, massage, budget advice and more. You are also encouraged to volunteer at the Y. Go and register. Cost is $2.50 per session.

Do you know what Tel-Law is? It is a collection of tape recorded messages written by lawyers on legal subjects. They are from 3-7 minutes long and are straight-forward and easily understood. They are geared to helping you understand legal problems, understand the justice system and know where to go for help. Call and ask for a list of numbered subjects. From this list you call back and ask for the number that relates to your problem. 1-800-452-4776.

The Low Income Energy Assistance Program (LIEAP) is now open for business. Their number is 687-FUEL but you will probably find it busy all the time. Go to their office in the basement of 165 E 7th to make an appointment. It will take 3-4 weeks so get in there soon. You will have to verify expenses, medical bills, heat source. The amount of payment depends on your income and heat source. If you have unpaid bills, they will help you out immediately.

Do you need temporary help? Try calling Project Self Reliance, a program for ex-prisoners. They will clean, haul, move, garden, paint and lots more. Call Merle at Sponsors, Inc., 485-8341.

The new Eugene Bikeways Map is based on an up-dated street map, printed on water-resistant paper and is color-coded. Useful information about hills, travel times, safe riding and cycling equipment is included. Available for $1.50 at City Hall II, City Hall, Community Centers, local bike and book stores.

Teenagers in Transition is an ongoing, peer-counseling support group for teens of divorced or separating parents. The group is set up in a confidential, supportive atmosphere where youth 13-18 years old can get together. They will be at the YMCA on Mondays at 7 pm. Cost is $10/month which also allows you use of the facilities for the day. Call 686-9622.

The Nurtury House announces its opening at 1857 Jefferson St. It provides a supportive environment for people to gather together. There are classes in writing, belly-dancing, parenting and piano. There are also Interpersonal Growth Groups, Massage, Story Telling for the young and home-cooked vegetarian meals. Dec 28 will be the first of weekly "people's parties" at 7:30 pm. Call 345-9230 or drop by from 9 am-9 pm.

WE'RE TAX DEDUCTIBLE!

What's Happening is a free weekly publication of Energy Futures, Inc., a local, tax exempt, non-profit corporation dedicated to information and education. Nuclear Questions, a weekly television program on Cable 11, is also a project of EFI. The show focuses on energy issues and other related subjects. Last fall we published the 1981 Lane County Energy Consumer's Guide, a free guide to energy services, conservation and local energy choices.

So What's Happening is Energy Futures, Inc. and all of our names are listed at the bottom left of page 2. Why are we telling you all this? Because we need your help. We are tax exempt. That means you can give us money in support of the services we provide the community. We publish up to 15,000 copies of What's Happening each week. Nuclear Questions has been on every week for over 3 years. Show us your support. Make your check payable to: Energy Futures, Inc., P.O. Box 259, Eugene, OR 97440. We are in need of office furnishings, art and newspaper tools and other items too. Call us if you want to donate—484-0519.

As a special thank you, donations of $25 will receive a free six-month subscription to What's Happening. Donations of $40 or more will receive a full year's subscription . . . in addition to our sincere appreciation.
