Announcements

Eugene Parks and Recreation Department is offering hundreds of leisure activities for youth and adults this winter including cross country skiing, swimming, fitness programs, cooking and arts and crafts. Programs for physically and mentally limited persons are also offered. Registration begins Sunday, Jan 9, from 2-4 pm at the City's four community centers. Registration for swimming classes begins Jan 3 at Sheldon and Echo Hollow Pools. For more information, consult your Winter Leisure Schedule, mailed to all Eugene residents the last week in December, or pick up a schedule at any community center, senior center, pool, or at the department's main office, 858 Pearl St.

The Willamette Pass Ski Area is now open for skiing. It will be open Weds-Sun every week through the season. Most of the 14 downhill runs have adequate snow. For Willamette Pass weather, road and ski conditions, call 345-SNOW. Prices for adults are $6/night, $8/half-day, $12/all day. For 12 and under prices are $5/night, $6/half-day, $8/all day. Passes good for a one-way lift to the top, enabling the start of a beautiful cross-country trip, are $2. Rope tow passes and sr. citizen discounts are also available.

Holly, poinsettia and mistletoe—traditional holiday plants—are also 3 of more than 700 poisonous species involved in poisonings each year. Because they aren't in general use, "many people forget about their dangers" says David Wagner of the UO Biology Dept. Keep them out of reach of small children and pets. The Poison Information Center number in Oregon is 1-800-452-7165.

The Museum of Natural History at the U of O has been given a gift of $10,000 as part of the matching funds program started last March. If they can raise another $5,000 by Jan 15, it will also be matched. Join Friends of the Museum and keep the momentum going. Call 686-3024 for information.

An after school tutoring program based on a new accelerated-learning system is starting Jan 10 at Willard Community School. The Magic of Learning is a private, low-fee program for children in grades 2-6 whose reading or writing skills are at least a year below grade level. First week in the program is free. A meeting to describe the program will be held by instructor Janet Niven on Tues, Jan 4, 7:30 pm, 2350 Harris St. Call her at 683-1558 with questions.

Lane Transit District announces the final bus will depart the Eugene downtown mall at 6:20 pm Friday, Dec 24. There will be no service on Christmas day or New Years day.

Indoor Soccer is coming to Eugene sponsored by N.W. Soccer, Inc. Call 484-GOAL to register your team. $10 per player.

The Eugene Folklore Society is looking for a Eugene School District employee who is willing to attend a monthly country dance held in a Eugene Community School (supervision requirement). Dances usually held on Sat nights, 8-11 pm. Call 344-4806, 345-2561 or 726-3399 for more information.

Mitzi Lynn is compiling a mailing list for classes in psychic development, Tarot, healing and the Goddess. Send your name and address to Mitzi, 2784 Central Blvd., Eugene, 97403, or call 345-0233.

Jazz: Then Till Now, a ten-week course tracing the history of jazz from 1900-1983 will be taught by Carl Woideck of KLCC-FM. It will be taught in an informal and non-technical style with emphasis on in-class listening and discussion. No musical background necessary. This 3-credit course is open for non-credit to members of the community. Sponsored by the UO Continuation Center. For registration and fee information, call 686-4231. For course information, call Carl at 343-6401.

Women! Stop Nuclear War

Every March women around the world celebrate International Womens Day. This year in Eugene, some local women hope to celebrate on March 6 at the Fairgrounds with a large gathering of women focusing on the theme of disarmament. The plans are sketchy at this writing, but in general the event will stress women educating one another, singing and playing together, dealing with fears and the effects of psychic numbing, looking to getting involved in an on-going way, and feeling the joy of a shared commitment. On Jan 6, there will be an organizing meeting to plan the activities for this celebration. All women in Eugene-Springfield, especially those who may never have been politically involved, are asked to come forth with their ideas of how to achieve the awesome task of stopping nuclear war. In this area, there are no experts.

Janet Anderson is one of the organizers of this event. She is seeking a real cross-section of women at this Jan 6 meeting and will be putting out quite a large mailing for the event to Oregon Women's Political Caucus and the City of Eugene's Women's Commission, among others. In addition to getting community women involved, the organization will also be seeking pledges and funding from individuals.

"We're stuck in our pre-nuclear thinking," says Larosa, one of the women volunteering her time to get this celebration together. She spent many years and much energy trying to create meaningful alternatives to political and social problems. Disarmament, however, requires that we address the politicians and the government directly. To do so effectively, we must educate ourselves and be prepared to look at our lives in a broader perspective—that of the survival of the human race, says Larosa.

Janet Anderson concurs. "To me, the most important objective we have as organizers is to create an atmosphere for women in which disarmament activities can be joyful and life affirming," says Anderson. Come to 1236 Kincaid at 7:30 on Jan 6 and learn how you can contribute to this most worthy effort.
