Announcements

A $400 gift from Camp 3 of the Omaha Woodmen Life Insurance Society has made possible the opening of a Slide Bank Registry of visual artists' work at Lane Regional Arts Council, the Arts Council announced this week. The gift has been used to purchase a desk-model slide projector with an 8"x8" screen which allows members of the public to view slides of artists' work in convenient detail. A slide filing system and a Slide Bank promotional mailing will also be funded by Omaha Woodmen's gift.

The Lane County Visual Artists Slide Bank is open to the public in the LRAC office, 795 Willamette St., Rm. 416, Eugene, Mondays through Thursdays, from 9 am to 5 pm. Those interested in viewing slides are encouraged to call the Arts Council office, 485-2278, in advance so that staff may have ready an appropriate selection.

Project Alliance, an alliance of specialized outdoor recreation programs, is designed to make outdoor adventures a reality for the handicapped. The project is being developed by the U of O Dept. of Recreation and Park Management, with a $99,900 one-year grant from the Rehabilitation Services Administration of the U.S. Dept. of Education.

Mobilization for Animals is a nationwide coalition calling for an end to using animals for experimental reasons causing extreme sickness and often death. April 24 has been designated as a day to demonstrate for the animals. A caravan to UC/Davis (where much animal research is done) will leave Portland the evening of the 23rd and return to Portland the 24th after the rally. Call 344-0288, 747-4501, x2330 for more information.

Mike Fish, UO Professor of Chinese, is trying to lure two people to teach English to physicians and hospital staff members at a major regional medical school in northwest China beginning in September 1983 as part of an exchange program. His bait is the opportunity for those he recommends for the positions to live and work in a Chinese cultural setting and to earn a salary commensurate with each teacher's qualifications. Free apartment housing is also provided.

Application deadline is April 15. Applicants should provide a resume of their education and experience and a listing of references. 686-4003, 4005.

The Community Center for the Performing Arts (CCPA) announces its 1983 fundraising "WOW—It's Ours!!" campaign which began Friday, April 1, 1983. According to Denny Guehler, CCPA fund-drive co-chairperson, "The goal for 'WOW—It's Ours!!' campaign is $15,000 raised from 300-500 new or renewing members." Rod Roehnel, also fund-drive co-chairperson, reports that a $500 kick-off challenge grant has been received by the CCPA from an anonymous donor via the McKenzie River Gathering Foundation. Roehnel and Guehler also report that "the CCPA Board of Directors has pledged over $1,100 in personal Board gifts, bringing the total raised before the drive officially begins to over ten percent of the goal."

The proceeds from the CCPA "WOW—It's Ours!!" campaign will retire the mortgage on the historic Woodmen of the World Hall, finalize community ownership, and provide critical operating support for staff salaries. A successful fundraiser last year raised much of the remaining mortgage; however, some yet remains along with the need for operating funds for staff salaries. For further information, call the CCPA office at 687-2746.

More UO activities for this summer include The 14th Oregon Bach Festival directed by the acclaimed conductor Helmuth Rilling. There will be numerous performances from June 20-July 3 at both the Hult Center and Beall Hall, including a series of free noon concerts. The work of NW artists will be featured at the Art Museum. Theatrical dance, including modern, jazz and tap, will be the emphasis of programs offered by the UO Dance Dept. There will also be a family-style Marine biology discovery workshop Aug. 14-16. Two ocean trips are included which explore marine ecology in activities for all ages.

Flower and vegetable garden seed packets are for sale for $7 at the Eugene Parks and Recreation Dept., River House, 301 N. Adams St. Packets include 13 varieties of vegetables and growing instructions. Look for What's Happening's pull-out Garden Section next week.

The new issue of Coyote's Dance is now available at Perelandra, The Kiva, Blair Island, Zoo Zoo's and other locations. Local writers offer poems, stories, graphics. $1.50. 345-9599.
