Pro Bike 83NW

The 2nd Northwest Regional Conference for Bicycle Program Specialists will take place Oct. 8-10 in Eugene. The program includes workshops on Fundraising, high quality maps, low-cost engineering improvements, parking, in-school bicycle education, organizing mass events and more. Housing will be in the dorms at the U of O. A coast bike trip is planned for Monday when the conference ends. You can contact the Conference at 858 Pearl St., Eugene 97401.

Workshops Coming Up

An all-day workshop, Woman, The Spontaneous Child, will be presented Sat., the 17th, by Rainbow Jackson, Karen Nelson and Janet Williams. This will be a day in the woods "using astrology, movement and supportive group activities to explore our creative selves." Call 344-0178.

Also on the 17th will be a day's workshop, Affirming Our Cyclic Nature, presented by Joyce Baker, MS (Counselor), Lois Diller (Movement Therapist), and Kamala Kielas (Massage Therapist). Their goal "is to present a holistic approach to the premenstrual experience (PMS) through self-help acupressure, sensory awareness and tension release, journal keeping and dream recall, nutrition awareness and forming support groups." Call 683-4483.

The Craft of Silver Painting

There will be a one-hour film presentation at the Bijou Theatre featuring Edward Weston, one of America's most celebrated photographers. The Strongest Way of Seeing and How Young I Was are educational films on the craft of Silver Painting and are sponsored by the Silver Print Company. 1:30 pm, Sept. 17-18.

Street Performers License

Singers, dancers, instrumentalists, jugglers, mimes and other entertainers are invited to be part of the Street Performers Program by the Lane Regional Arts Council. This year for the first time street performers may work anywhere on the Mall as long as they do not interfere with other scheduled events or with each other. Persons interested in becoming licensed performers should attend a licensing session any Tuesday at 2 pm at the Arts Council office, 416 Tiffany Bldg., 795 Willamette St. Take a small photo (for a button that will be made), a $5 fee and a pen. For more information, call 485-2278.

Let Them Eat Cake

A celebration based on the famous phrase of King Louis XVII when told there were starving people in his kingdom ("Let them eat cake") will take place during the Eugene Celebration on Sat & Sun, Oct 1 & 2 on the downtown Mall. There will be non-profit booth space, games and carnival booths, celebrity cakes as well as other cakes for sale. This is a theme that is being celebrated this year across the nation in at least 100 other cities. Profits will benefit those who help out the needy in one form or another. They are still looking for sponsors and endorsers. Call Debbie, 485-1755 to donate a cake. Call 342-5167 for more information.
