Latest developments in medical and allied fields: e.g., dentistry, naturopathic, chiropractic, nutrition, pain control and behavior will be promulgated. Obviously, reader participation and questions are welcome, with screening, researching, and answering of readers' comments by Peter Magnus, our medical editor. Consideration will be given to topics of appropriate community and public health interest, with an emphasis on prevention and wellness. Medical literature and contact with local (and not so local) consultants and experts will also be effected in conjunction with this column. The January 19 What's Happening will be a health issue. Reader communication should be sent to: Dr. Wellness, 2895 Oak St., Suite 2B, Eugene, OR 97405.
