Weekly Eye Opener
 by Larry Deckman
 (Taken from the book, Magic of the Senses by Vitus B. Droscher): "Who would dare travel from Germany to South Africa and back without map or signposts, without ever asking anyone the way, without a traveling companion who knows the route, or anyone showing or telling him beforehand how to reach his destination? This is equivalent to what millions of birds of passage do every year, including finding on return their precise place of birth—say back garden, second oak on left, of house #X, Y Street, in Z district of a particular town. When we think of the achievement involved it makes us gasp."
 [If you have a good anecdote or fact that you'd like to see as a Weekly Eye Opener, send it along with its source and author to: Weekly Eye Opener, 2406 Lawrence St., Eugene, OR 97405. If your submission is used, it will be credited to you.]
