EDITORIAL

No Celebration Schedule this year!

This year the organizers of the Eugene Celebration decided to publish the Celebration schedule with our local daily newspaper rather than with What's Happening. It seems that the Register-Guard made them an offer they couldn't refuse!

For the past four years, since the beginning of the Eugene Celebration in 1983, What's Happening has carried the complete schedule and provided the City with extra copies at a price very close to cost. This service was much appreciated by our 30,000 readers, among the most enthusiastic supporters of the Celebration.

This year, however, Celebration organizers decided to cast their fate to the winds of television advertising and Register-Guard subscribers. Confident that What's Happening would cover the event for free, no City dollars have come our way. Consequently, we are unable to provide you the four-page schedule as we have in the past.

What we have provided is a very concise listing of Celebration entertainment, along with the major highlights of each day, in our Calendar (see Friday-Sunday). We hope that these listings will whet your Celebration appetite and you will join in the fun!

Celebration officials have assured us that there will be plenty of schedules at the Celebration for those who miss the one printed in the Register-Guard.

What's Happening supports the Eugene Celebration and understands the need to cut costs wherever possible. We regret, however, the questionable decision to exclude the only arts and entertainment publication from its budget.

If you are disappointed or inconvenienced at not finding the Celebration schedule in this issue of What's Happening, let the organizers know. The Eugene Celebration number is 687-5215. Or write to What's Happening, Letters to the Editor, 335 W. 20th, Eugene, OR 97405.
