

MAGAZINE
PAMPHLETDOES NOT CIRCULATE

free

What's HAPPENING

Guide to Local Arts, Entertainment & Events

INSIDE:

- Frances Moore Lappe: Hunger & Democracy
- ONRC celebrates 15 years
- Mayor's Art Show reviewed
- Hult Children's Series
- Trivia Treasure Hunt
- Film: Waterwalker
- Alexander Cockburn
- Cross Country Running

EUGENE GOURMET

Desserts by Fettucine & Co. are:
(top) Italian Cassata (chocolate,
Ricotta cheese, raspberries and Grand Marnier); (left) Dobosh Torte (nine-layered lemon sponge cake, chocolate frosting); (right)
Raspberry Cheese-cake.

Photo by Tom Heusal

DESSERT FESTIVAL

You step through the doors and your eyes scan from table to table. You're in a room filled with the most scrumptious desserts available in Eugene. Laid out before you are cakes, chocolate, cookies, ice cream, pies, pastries, truffles, tarts, and tortes. Your mouth waters. You hesitate. Then you remember—THIS IS A FUND RAISER FOR THE EUGENE PUBLIC LIBRARY!!! A sense of civic duty overwhelms you and you plunge right in.

If this type of civic duty appeals to you, join KZAM Radio, What's Happening and your fellow citizens at the Eugene Hilton on Sunday, October 4th from 2 to 5 pm. For $5 admission you will be given two tastings at 12 different dessert booths and the proceeds will go to the Eugene Public Library Foundation.

The Library Foundation is seeking to update its non-fiction collection for both children and adults. Eighty percent of this collection is over five years old and in areas of technology and science is seriously out of date. Unfortunately, the city budget does not adequately fund the need for new books and the library must turn to private donations.

So support the Library and give your tastebuds a treat; don't miss the Eugene Gourmet Dessert Festival at the Hilton on Sunday, October 4th. Tickets are available at the door. The participants, who are noted for their extraordinary desserts, are:

- Cafe Central
- Excelsior Cafe
- Eugene Hilton Encore Room
- Euphoria Chocolate Company
- Fall Creek Bakery
- Fenton & Lee Confections

- Fettucine & Company
- Humble Bagel
- Le Petit Gourmet
- Marie Callender's
- Monster Cookie
- Prince Puckler's Ice Cream

For more information about the Eugene Public Library Foundation call Alice Shirrey at 484-1927 or the library office at 687-5454.

For further information about the dessert festival contact Rachele Raia at KZAM Radio, 741-1999.