

We are stamping the wrappers of all those whose papers have expired in order that their attention may be called to the matter. In calling attention to a business delinquency on the part of some of our subscribers we wish it distinctly remembered that we are not in any way reflecting upon them.

It seems merely human for the subscriber to grow careless on a matter that means almost life itself to the publisher. Of course, we are not going to die right away, but if some of our good subscribers will give us a "wee bit" better support financially we can give them still more for their money. Try it!
