

Mrs. J. H. Heidelman, from Flathead Reservation, Montana, brought a party of twelve pupils to the school on last Sunday. She remained a week to visit Miss White, who accompanied her to Portland to attend the performance of Ben Hur, going from there to her home at Jocko, Mont. Mrs. Heidelman is a very gifted artist with brush, paint and oils.

Mr. Ruthyn Turney favored the school at the Sunday evening service with a violin solo entitled "Tyroler Heimathklange," by Kafka. It was well rendered and much enjoyed by the audience. The music furnished by him and his orchestra adds much to our Sunday evening services. The school is fortunate in having such a gifted musician as one of its faculty.

SENIORS AND JUNIORS

The Seniors held a meeting recently in the academic building for the purpose of organizing their class. The following officers were elected:

President	- - - - -	Paul Kininnook
Vice-President	- - - - -	Fannie Adams
Secretary	- - - - -	James Evans
Treasurer	- - - - -	Joseph Dunbar
Historian	- - - - -	Maude Lowry

The colors of the class are purple and white; the motto, Patience and Perseverance. The averages resulting from the recent examinations show the class to be doing good work, but, if the nine girls and fourteen boys composing the class live up to their motto, much better work will be shown in the finals.

The Junior class, of five girls and sixteen boys, also organized and elected the following officers:

President	- - - - -	Ruth Liphart
Vice-President	- - - - -	Patsy Barrett
Secretary	- - - - -	Ella Evans
Treasurer	- - - - -	Joseph Lachance

The colors of last year, green and white, were retained.
