The girls in the sewing room have been making gingham dresses, but now they have about finished and are beginning on the uniforms.—Sadie Roberts, Sixth Grade.

Philip Rees is studying in the engineering department and intends fitting himself for a machine engineer after he leaves Chemawa. The boys who study engineering here are nearly always successful in getting work.

The band boys gave a party last Saturday night and all enjoyed themselves very much. Mr. Clardy spoke to the boys and said it was the finest party that had been given in Chemawa this year.—Archie Russie, Fifth Grade.

We sewing-room girls are going to get busy and finish three thousand pieces of clothing for the girls; this includes the uniforms. Miss Brown was very busy giving us instructions about the cutting of the new uniforms which will be a plain serge shirt and a white shirt waist for each girl. We all like the way in which they are to be made.—Ethel Roberts, Senior.

Our girls' First Basketball Team met the Silverton High School team on our home floor on Saturday, March 15th. The game was a very interesting one; more so as it was our only game with an outside team this year. The Silverton girls did good team work, but our girls did a little better, as the score proves, it being 22-6 in Chemawa's favor. After the game we had a dance in which the visitors took part.—Fannie Adams, Senior.

One detail is busy with spraying and pruning, another with the preparation and planting of the garden for the summer supply of vegetables. At this season of the year Mr. Westley is a very busy man and has a vast amount of instruction under his immediate supervision. The boys who are trained in this particular line of work are in demand in this part of the state.

Hon. R. W. Raymond of Portland, Ore., delivered an address on the evening of Easter Sunday, March 23, which was one of the most interesting and finely delivered addresses given here in the auditorium this year. Mr. Raymonds subject was "The Broader Meaning of Easter" and he spoke in such a clear and distinct manner that his talk simply illustrated itself.
