

ACADEMIC LOCAL

Miss Lecrone spent Saturday and Sunday with friends in Portland.

Bishop Scadding of Portland held services for us Sunday, April 27. Rev. Barr G. Lee of Salem accompanied the Bishop to Chemawa.

Miss White, teacher of the sixth grade, gave an interesting talk in the chapel one Monday morning about Crater Lake in Southern Oregon.

Mr. M. L. Devoll of Waterville, Ohio, has been appointed teacher to fill a vacancy here. Mr. Devoll has had experience in teaching. We extend a welcome to him as a member of our faculty.

There is a noticeable improvement in the girls' marching since Captains Sampson and White have been drilling the companies. The boys will have to "get busy" or the girls will carry off the laurels.

Mr. and Mrs. Fickle spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Harold, who lives near Quinaby. Mrs. Harold has been ill for two weeks, which is most serious on account of her advanced age. She is well known to those who have lived at Chemawa for any length of time.

Last week Mr. Loos had a birthday anniversary, as all people who are past twenty-one do. He was keeping the fact quiet, but the band boys found it out and surprised him in the evening with a serenade on the porch in front of his rooms. They were invited in and served by Mrs. Loos with punch and cake. After the refreshments were consumed the boys gave a concert on the lawn.

Mr. Ralph Seaman, Y. M. C. A. student secretary of the Pacific coast, visited the Chemawa Y. M. C. A. recently. Mr. Seaman remained at Chemawa just long enough to show us some clever stereoptican views of the Universities of Idaho, Oregon and Montana. He also showed upon the canvas a few of the many good times the boys enjoy at Columbia Beach and urged our boys to attend the coming summer conference.

The Small Boys and their matron, Mrs. Thompson, deserve credit for the neat appearance of the Small Boys' Home at Saturday's inspection. The beds are clean and well made, floor polished, the whole building in excellent condition. Special mention should be made, of the room occupied by three officers, Capt. Ivan Anderson and Lieuts. Richard Busby and John Beyers, none of whom is over fifteen years of age. If the boys in Brewer and Mitchell Halls wish to see a model room, let them visit the officers' room in the Small Boys' Home.

This year the students of Chemawa were none behind the pupils of other schools in celebrating Arbor Day in the proper manner. The entire day was a holiday, being spent in a most profitable manner. The students assembled in the auditorium during the forenoon where a pro-
