

gram was rendered by the pupils, followed by an address by Prof. A. L. Peck of the Oregon Agricultural College concerning forests and their preservation, which was very interesting and instructive. At the conclusion of the program the classes assembled at designated places on the school lawn to plant class trees. The several classes had appropriate exercises while the planting of the trees was in progress. The trees have been named and will be cared for by the classes of the school.

Not the least of Chemawa's attractions is the band and not the least of Chemawa's recent acquisitions is the bandleader, Mr. I. S. Loos. Mr. Loos is a graduate of Dana's Conservatory of Music at Warren, Ohio, and is a bandmaster of wide experience. The institution or community that secures his service is fortunate. The band is never called upon that it is not ready to respond with any kind of music that the occasion requires. Usually when a large band plays in a room the harshness of the tones spoils the music, but when our band plays in the auditorium on motion picture evenings the tones of the instruments are so well modulated that the music is a delight to the ear. The band now has a membership of thirty-two. Their next engagement away from home will be at the Strawberry Carnival, at Roseburg, Oregon, May 21 to 24, where they will give two concerts daily.

THE Y. W. C. A.

After a very successful season the Bible Study Classes for the year were brought to a close on Tuesday evening, April twenty-second, with a reception, given in honor of the Y. M. C. A. by the Willamette teachers and the Y. W. C. A. Miss Troutman kindly gave us the use of the sitting rooms in the Small Girls' Home for the occasion, and ere long the Association girls had effected a pleasing transformation with pennants, pillows and wild flowers. The novel games, introduced by the Willamette students, afforded everybody much merriment. Perhaps the most exciting event was the quadrangular meet, in which Willamette, Oregon, O. A. C., and Pennsylvania were participants. After much hard work and enthusiastic rooting on the part of each team, O. A. C. under Capt. Archie McDonald, succeeded in winning the contest. The girls then served dainty sandwiches, cake of their own making, and coffee. Good nights were reluctantly said, and the Y. W. C. A. party passed into memory as another red letter night at Chemawa.
