
OUR BUDGET OF LORE

LOCAL AND OTHERWISE

Silas Moon was a welcome visitor at the school on June 1st.

The cooks and kitchen boys enjoyed a fine party on May 17th.

Miss Ruth Swoboda graduated from the Salem High School on June 6th.

William Ready appeared in public as a violin soloist not long ago at Gervais, Oregon, and scored a decided success.

Miss Banfield, who taught here temporarily during the winter, was a visitor from Portland during our commencement.

Henry Darnell visited here during commencement and is always a welcome guest. He is getting along nicely at his home in Kathlama, Wash.

Mr. W. D. McKay, of Pendleton, Oregon, visited us recently after many years. At one time he was a pupil at Chemawa. He is well and prosperous.

The presentation of "Evangeline" was under the direction of Mrs. Brace and Miss Lecrone, while Miss Brewer had charge of the musical features of the play.

Supt. Wadsworth acknowledges the receipt of most attractively designed and worded invitations and programs from both the Cushman school and Haskell Institute.

The many programs appearing in full in this issue formed a part of our Commencement schedule and all were excellently given. We have been so extremely busy that personal mention has not been possible.

Miss Ella Brewer was recently tendered a transfer from Washington, D. C., to a better situation in the service at Leech Lake, Minn., which she has accepted. We are pleased to note her advancement.

During the month of June there were sold from the school farm 40 head of hogs, bringing nearly $300. The total sale of hogs for the year amounted to $1,499.43. This is a showing of which Mr. Gillett should be proud.

During Commencement an alumni association was formed at Chemawa. Quite a number of graduates were present and with the new class members the organization was effected. On Friday evening the alumni members in attendance enjoyed a banquet at which appropriate addresses were made and toasts given.
