

5th

A large number of girls came here from Montana on the 13th of Sept. in care of Mr. Brown of the Flathead Indian Reservation.

At the hop-picking yards we had good times. At evening we all sat around the bonfire and sang for the people that came there.

School has started and we are all glad. We are studying hard to pass at the end of the year.

We are going to have a large school as we are expecting many children from Alaska and other places.

Lucy O'brien is going to try and make the Sixth Grade before June.

FROM THE SENIORS

The senior class began school with an attendance of six. We hope to report the full number in the next issue.

The senior room rejoices in a new coat of varnish, the floor is waxed so it shines, the pictures are rearranged.

If you have any large mouthed bottles, we shall be glad to have them for our Agricultural experiments. We hope to have our table soon.

Mr. Brace and Mr. Devoll have wired rooms seven, eight and nine. The higher classes will no longer have to guess at the time to change, for the bells will ring in rooms seven and eight. This is a great improvement over the former arrangement.

A new flag is shown in our room.

The topics for the "Current Events" class were furnished by the teacher. We discussed important bills before Congress, the prices of various products, the inventions of Thomas Edison, the books of Andrew Carnegie, the Mexican situation, the New York affair, etc.

Our class has five printers, one painter, one barber. Michael McCloud is doing work in Supt. Wadsworth's office, and Ruth Liphart is one of the normal teachers. Jessie Scowole substituted as night watchman during the annual leave of the regular watchman.

SEWING-ROOM ITEMS

We are in hopes of having a new sewing-room soon, which used to be the old gymnasium.

We are kept busy in the dressingmaking department making new
