

hams for each meal and about four hundred pounds of meat for each meal. When they make cornstarch pudding they use ten packages of cornstarch. They cook twenty packages of oatmeal for breakfast. At the end of the month they are going to have an examination in cooking.

4th

Miss Troutman had the misfortune to break her arm last week. We are sorry for her.

Since all of the pupils have written on "Kindness to Animals" we hope all of them will improve in their kindness to our pets.

There are 31 pupils in the fourth grade room. Mr. Hobucket is our teacher. There are about the same number of pupils in the other division.

I think moving pictures are nice things for boys and girls. Some times you can see pictures of other lands and see different kinds of people, so boys and girls learn lots from moving pictures.

We are glad to have Ruth and Augusta Evans with us again.

Archie Freestone is here after spending his vacation in Coburg, Montana. He is doing fine work in the harnessshop.

Martha Clark returned from her home last Sunday.

John Trout has gone back to his favorite work in the Kitchen.

Ione Cardon has gone home. She will try and be with us next year.

I am interested in my work at the laundry. We are learning how to take spots out of linen.

Elsie Lawrence, Julia Gromoff, and Allan Shepard made the best grades in our room last month.

George Nix is doing good work with the football team.

I am orderly for Miss Gaither again this year. I was her orderly last year. I spend my spare time studying. By doing so I skipped a grade. I hope to do as well again. Henry Davis is also her orderly; he studies, too, and helps in the library. I am 12 and Henry is 13.

Mr. Loos said he was going to have a band for small boys.

3rd

I will write about people in the north who keep dogs. They take good care of their dogs. When they want to go out hunting the dogs go along, too. But when they go without the dogs they can hardly find any game which is good for them to eat, and for their children.