

Mrs. Brewer was in Tacoma, Wash., recently attending to some matters of business.

Alex Covington, a former Chemawa student, writes that he is now engaged as a government interpreter at Nespelem, Wash. We are pleased to report that he is getting along nicely.

The academic department, under Miss Gaither and her corps of efficient teachers, is doing splendid work this year. Everything in this important department is now systematized and working very smoothly.

Hallowe'en night was observed at Chemawa with a dance. The occasion fell on our regular dance evening, but the large gymnasium was most tastefully decorated for the function and a merry time was the verdict of all.

On the evening of October 29th Miss Troutman, matron in the Small Girls' Home, was so unfortunate as to slip on an apple peeling and fall, breaking her right arm. We were all sorry to see her the victim of such a distressing accident.

Dr. Fulkerson went to McMinnville, Oregon, on Nov. 1st to attend a meeting of the officials of the Willamette Valley Basketball League. He attended as Chemawa's representative for the purpose of assisting in arranging details for the coming season of basketball.

Mr. Thompson, who has been a resident and employe at Chemawa during the past year or two, went to Port Townsend, Wash., recently and entered a hospital for medical treatment. His condition has been quite alarming of late, but he is now improving, we are pleased to report.

Since our last issue Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hart, of Toppenish, Wash., were visitors at our school. Mr. Hart is one of the most prominent men of his section in Indian affairs and talked very wisely of the Indian and his future. He expressed himself as delighted with what he saw during his brief visit at Chemawa.

In our last issue we chronicled the resignation of Mr. Tracy Hatch, who had been here in the capacity of tailor. Since then the vacancy has been filled by the transfer of Mr. D. R. McLean from Flandreau, S. Dak., to Chemawa. Mr. McLean is a most capable tailor and we feel ourselves fortunate in having him with us.

Supt. Wadsworth should be pleased with the way affairs are shaping themselves at the school, and no doubt he is. He has seen a number of his recommendations in certain matters put into effect and bring satisfactory results. He has been most successful in his efforts in behalf of Chemawa and is encouraged to still greater efforts, a fact which encourages all—old and young.
