

Supt. Wadsworth left recently for a trip to Montana on business for the school.

Silas Moon was among the guests of the school on Thanksgiving. Silas has many warm friends here.

Mrs. Walker who for many months was cook at the employes' mess, departed not long ago for her home in Eastern Oregon.

Fred Lewis, a member of our graduating class of 1910, spent Thanksgiving here and participated in the football game on the afternoon of that day.

At the time of going to press Mrs. Evelyn Rhodes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woods, of Chemawa, was expected to arrive from her home in Tillamook, Oregon, for a visit with her parents.

On the evening of December 7th, Tuberculosis Day, Dr. C. D. Fulkerson of this school gave an interesting and instructive talk to those in attendance at the regular general chapel assembly.

We are in receipt of a very interesting letter from Miss Dora Lacrone, now teaching at Unga, Alaska, but who was a member of our teaching staff last year. We are pleased to announce that the letter will appear in our next issue.

Since our last issue Ernest Brewer has transferred from a position in the Indian Office at Washington, D. C., to a clerkship at Yakima, Wash. We are pleased to note this change for in his present state of health it will be better for Mr. Brewer.

On November 17th Hattie Mann, accompanied by her mother, went to Arizona in the hope of benefitting her health, which for some time previous had been very poor. Just recently we were informed that she is getting along nicely and is showing decided improvement.

On December 2 Supt. William R. Davis of the Bismarck, North Dakota, school, was our visitor. He owns property in Central Oregon and while attending to business there concluded to come on out and see us. We were pleased to have him with us, though but for a brief visit.

Not long ago we were pleased to have with us a sincere friend in the person of Mr. J. B. Johnson. He has visited us many times and is always very welcome. In regard to his visit here The Colfax (Wash.) Gazette says: One of the most interesting schools which Mr. Johnson visited and which he has had on his visiting list for the past four years, was the United States Indian training school at Chemawa, near Salem, Oregon. Here the government owns 440 acres of the finest farm land and 63 buildings in connection with the school. The enrollment is 800, the students coming from Alaska, the Philippines, Greenland and from nearly every Indian tribe in the United States. Mr. Johnson says "In all my trip I was nowhere treated with more respect than by those Indians."
