

Mr. Rainville spent his Christmas here with his daughters, Callista, Margaret, and Elizabeth.

Miss Randolph has given her class a book of quotations.

Archie Freestone is working in the harness shop and is doing good work. He says he is going to make a set of harness for his horses at home in Montana.

Mr. Mitchell's boys have been cutting limbs off the trees by McBride hall.

Mary and grace Perkins returned to school last night, after spending their holidays in Portland.

3rd

The men are building a new tower made of steel. They are putting on a new tank.

I am glad to go to school again. It is better than having holidays.

I work in the dining room. I try my best to do everything that they tell me to do.

We decorated our school room before Christmas, and we cut Christmas bells and pictures and hung them on the wall, and we had a good time.

At the Christmas tree I got a doll, a set of dishes, and some handkerchiefs, and two yards of ribbon. I saw old Santa Claus come down the chimney at the gymnasium.

I got a big doll for Christmas, and ribbons, a tea set, and a jumping jack. We didn't have school for two weeks, and I am glad I am back to school to learn my lessons.

They had a jolly time New Year's night. The boys were playing the banjo and fiddle and ringing bells at the schoolhouse.

I had lots of fun on Christmas Day. We had a dance on Christmas night. We had a good dinner on Christmas. I am in the third grade now.

FINE EXERCISES

Hon. J. A. Churchill, Superintendent of Public Instruction for Oregon, addressed the student body at the Sunday Evening service on January 11, on the subject of "Service." His address, unusually interesting and instructive, was brim full of good things for the mind, each student carrying away many thoughts. We are fortunate in having such able men as Superintendent Churchill interested in the work done