
THE NONPAREIL SOCIETY

The newly elected members of the Nonpareil Literary Society: President, Ella McCully; vice-president, Eleanor Lynch; secretary, Margaret Rainville; treasurer, Eleanor Hull; reporter, Ida Kennedy.

Miss M. Regina Long of the Salem High School has taken charge of the girls' societies. With her aid we will make the Nonpareil Literary Society a credit to our school.—IDA KENNEDY, Reporter.

THE WINONA SOCIETY

The Winona Literary Society met at the usual place on Thursday evening, January 27, 1914. We were pleased to have Miss Long of Salem High School present. She gave us many helpful suggestions. We are glad that it has been arranged for her to be with us and help us. She is an experienced literary leader and by her help all the societies will be benefitted.

The roll was called; a few members were absent. Our membership is increasing and we are going to have a strong society. We have been having very good programs. The following was not an exception; it was short and every number was well prepared:

Society Song	- - - - -	Society
Current Events	- - - - -	Jeanette Buckles
Recitation	- - - - -	Ruth Liphart
Violin Solo	- - - - -	Cora Zeigler
Reading	- - - - -	Lucy Turcotte
Recitation	- - - - -	Cecil Russell
Remarks	- - - - -	Miss Long, also Miss Randolph, Critic
		LUCY TURCOTTE, Reporter.

THE RELIANCE SOCIETY

On January 23rd the Reliance Literary Society elected new officers as follows: President, Jerry Rees; vice-president, George Fairbanks; secretary John Johanson; treasurer, James Todd; sergeant-at-arms, Charles Owens; reporter, Wm. Jackson. The new officers began their work immediately. Arrangements are being made with the other societies for a series of debates to take place in the near future.—WILLIAM JACKSON, Reporter.