
NUT CRACKERS' LITERARY SOCIETY

On Thursday evening the members of the Nut Crackers' Literary Society met in Room No. 4. The program was short, but interesting. The feature of the evening was the splendid singing. The members are working hard to help each other along so at the end of the year we will be proud to say that our society is just as good as the next one. Miss Gaither, our principal teacher, made encouraging remarks to the boys, and Mr. Hobucket, our advisory member, addressed us also.—LOUIS COLBY, Reporter.

The Nut Cracker Society, which is composed of boys 10 to 14 years of age, is progressing very nicely. The members of the society appreciate Mr. Turney's assistance in selecting the name of the club, which is very appropriate. Mr. Turney and Miss Gaither also assisted us in choosing the Princeton colors—Orange and Black. In the near future the society will be proud possessor of a banner with the words, "Nut Crackers" on it.—G. B. HOBUCKET, Advisory Member.

ACADEMIC LOCAL

Several varieties of roses are still blooming at different places on the campus. New leaves are out on many of the low bushes. So far the winter has been very mild and roses have been blooming since last April.

The Chemawa delegates to the Tri-State Y. M. C. A. Convention recently held in Vancouver, Wash., were Frank Johnson, Nick Orloff, Paul Kininnook, and Mr. G. B. Hobucket. They report a series of meetings of great interest and the enthusiasm carried home by the various delegates is certain to bear fruit.

Our Monday assemblies are more interesting since the different teachers are taking part in the exercises. The students have volunteered to give special music. The Alaskan song accompanied by a guitar, rendered by Alex Melovidov and Simeon Fratis, two of our students from St. Paul's Island in the Bering Sea, was enjoyed by all.

In one of our recent windstorms part of the roof was blown from the academic building. The prompt work of the carpenter boys soon put it in first-class condition again.

The students of the departmental division are reviewing for the mid-term examination to be given some time during this month.
