

mawa. Far from it.

Another thing it is fitting to remind our young men of at this time is that an education is the most necessary thing in school life and school days. This is the main issue—all else is on the side. Try to maintain a mental attitude which will make it possible to succeed in both studies and athletics. Do not be one-sided, rather maintain a healthy balance in all your undertakings.

In getting out this issue Supt. Wadsworth has made it possible for us to get appropriate half-tones, etc., while Mr. E. A. Smith has been to great trouble in securing and compiling the "athletic data." Thanks are due to both gentlemen.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

No matter in what path we trod it is necessary that we look to the future. We must plan today for the action of tomorrow, otherwise tomorrow will usher in chaos all its own. Unthinking and improvident people are noted for not looking to the future in anything—they just drift. They become so much driftwood tossing hither and yon on the troublous sea of life. Let us not be driftwood.

Here at Chemawa we anticipate things—we try to lift the curtain and see what the future has for us. We conceive great possibilities for our school—very great, indeed. Let us remind our readers that the future of each individual is largely what he or she may make it. We believe that it is true with the most of us that when we look ahead to the years to come we nearly always see a vision of ourselves—the part which we are to play—and invariably we are successful. This is significant in that it denotes that there is within us some intangible and unexplainable something which points the way to better things.

The vast majority of those at Chemawa, employees and pupils, hope that the future may favor us with the "better things." We all hope so. But let us remember that hope without action is quite a "hopeless" proposition. Action, supported by hope and optimism, is as good as dynamite in many cases where things are to be achieved in a hurry. We must work if we are to have the things most desirable. This is true at Chemawa just the same as elsewhere. Our future depends upon action—work. By our labors will our future be known.

Many changes and improvements are constantly taking place at Chemawa, especially in the building line. Supt. Wadsworth has many propositions under way already, with numerous others in contemplation, for the improvement of our school. All is going nicely in every department.
