

grace the name of the school. He is in a sense a marked representative of the school. I wish to congratulate the fourteen members of the Chemawa first team on having won their letters. I wish to call your attention to those people also who have labored on the football field, received hard knocks even though they have not won their letters and in behalf of them if any of them be present I at least hope for them that they may win in the coming year the privilege of wearing upon their breasts the white C which means that that student is a letter man of Chemawa.

I trust that the letter men of Chemawa will feel the dignity of their positions. Possibly they may organize a Society of the C, or Order of the C. In any event, as the wearers of the C, they had ought to be drawn together by the feeling of responsibility that has come to them. If the privilege of wearing the C can influence and serve as a reminder of cleaner and more efficient athletics for Chemawa, better and cleaner football constitutionally, then this would be the true making of one of the very best football teams in every respect than can be found anywhere in the land.

THE BANQUET

BY MR. FICKLE, chemawa

ONE of the most enjoyable occasions of the season was the football banquet at the close of the season. Mr. Smith, manager of athletics and coach of our team, made such an enjoyable evening possible. He had the school dining-room prettily decorated for the occasion with pennants and school trophies. The tables, set for over a hundred guests, were loaded with all kinds of good things to eat.

Those enjoying the banquet were the faculty, the football boys, and their lady friends, and other invited guests. Those responding to toasts were: Prof. Kilpatrick, Eric Boldt, captain W. U. team 1913; Reuben Sanders, Silas Moon, Louis Paul, Gideon Hanbury, Dr. Fulkerson, Supt. Wadsworth, and a few members of our team. This occasion marked the closing of the most successful season the school has ever enjoyed.

Mr. Smith has inaugurated a new custom by presenting a cardinal red sweater bearing an official C to the players who have participated in a certain number of games. Mr. Smith deserves great credit for managing the team the past season and the splendid manner in which the banquet was carried out.
