

OUR BUDGET OF LORE

LOCAL AND OTHERWISE

---

---

Loulin Brewer is now at the family home in Tacoma, Wash.

New pupils are arriving from all directions. The more the merrier.

Supt. Morgan came down not long ago in charge of a party of students from the Flathead Agency of Montana. We are always very glad to welcome Mr. Morgan at Chemawa.

The regular bi-weekly dances for the students continue as in the past; the same is true as regards the moving picture shows. These are both extremely popular features with our people, young and old.

More than 3,000 jars of fruit were canned at the students' kitchen this season for the pupils during the ensuing school year. In addition to this a goodly quantity of prunes were dried, so that our outlook for fruit for the pupils is very bright.

On the first of this month was ushered in the open season for China pheasant shooting and hunters were abroad early and the slaughter began. Reports from different sections vary as to the plentitude of the pheasants, but we guess they were fairly numerous. The law is such that a hunter is allowed to kill but five birds a day,

Supt. Wadsworth has succeeded in making arrangements whereby advanced students are enabled to receive instruction in Salem, either at the Willamette University, the high school, or at the business college. This is an arrangement which is much appreciated, as is evidence by the number of students who are taking advantage of it.

Miss Celestia Brace, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Brace of Chemawa, arrived here during the summer. She came from Tunkhannock, Pa., and made the trip without mishap. She is a most attractive young lady and we are pleased to have her in Chemawa. At present she is attending school in Salem, making the trip to and fro morning and evening, as do many others.

Our people were startled on the evening of August 3 by the intelligence that Mark Van Tassel had been drowned while bathing in the Willamette river above Salem. It appears that Mark had gone into the water in company with another young man and the probabilities are that he was seized by cramps. The body was not recovered until the following day and interment was made in the Chemawa cemetery. He was just entering manhood, being about 18 years of age—the eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Van Tassel of this place. His untimely demise was a sad blow to the family, who have the sympathy of all.