Yours very truly,
PACIFIC PAPER CO.

GENTLEMEN: We certainly are very much pleased to see the catalogue issued by the Salem Indian School, Chemawa, Ore., which you were good enough to send to us, as mentioned in your letter of September 29th.

The catalogue is certainly very interesting, both because it is printed by Indians, and because they have really executed quite a nice appearing job. Most people would have thought it necessary to have printed the whole job on coated paper and thus, to a certain extent, would have lost considerable of the interesting character of the catalogue. By interleaving with "strathmore" it has helped out the character of the book wonderfully.

We have often tried to get people to do this because it really is desirable and certainly has no objections whatever, unless it is the matter of price, and this should not always be the consideration when a good job is wanted. We note, too, with pleasure that they have used Rhododendron cover for the cover, and we surely are well represented in the book.

Should it so happen that you care to express to Mr. Wadsworth our opinion of the book it certainly would be a pleasure for us to do so.

Yours very truly,
STRATHMORE PAPER COMPANY.

GOOD FOR OKLAHOMA INDIANS

In compliance with the provision of the Indian Bill which became a law August 1, 1914, which provides for the payment to the Creek, Chickasaw and Cherokee Indians of Oklahoma, in equalization of their allotments and per capita payments altogether amounting to more than $3,000,000, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Cato Sells, has promulgated regulations for completing these payments during the month of August, the Creek equalization payment to be made by J. George Wright, Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes; all payments and procedure under these regulations for Creek payments to be after consultation and in co-operation with Judge R. C. Allen, tribal attorney for the Creek Nation of Indians; the Chickasaw payment to be made by Superintendent Dana H. Kelsey after consultation and in co-operation with Hon. Reford Bond, tribal attorney for the Chickasaw Nation of Indians; and the Cherokee payment to be made by Superintendent Kelsey after consultation and in co-operation with Hon. H. Teehee, probate attorney for the Cherokee Nation of Indians.

Commissioner Sells has also directed Superintendent Kelsey to detail the Field Clerks of the Five Civilized Tribes to points where these payments will reach the Indians, that the Indians receiving this money may be fully protected from every immoral or other influence which might result in their being defrauded or over-reached in any way.
