

story of woe; and one, if requested to travel a mile, will measure the perches and roods; but does his stunt with a whistle or smile—he's
THE MAN WHO DELIVERS THE GOODS.

One man is afraid he'll labor too hard, the world isn't yearning for such; and one man is ever alert—on his guard—lest he put in a minute too much; one has a grouch on, a temper that's bad and one is a creature of moods, so it's hey for the joyous and rollicking lad—for

THE MAN WHO DELIVERS THE GOODS.

—Walt Mason.

---

---

CHEMAWA GIRLS VICTORIOUS

The winning of the first prize of $50 in the three days canning contest by the team from the Chemawa Indian School and the distribution of several hundred dollars' worth of presents in the little theatre after the program of the Manufacturers' Association were the features Saturday night at the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show.

The girls from the Chemawa School had been in one contest before at the State Fair, and had won second prize there. At the show in Portland for the past three days they have been in competition with the champion team of girls from Pleasant Home High School, in Lane County. Salmon, beets, greens, grapes cauliflower and in fact nearly everything that may be canned, was put up in the three-days' contest.

The contest has been held as the ones before it, as a part of the government's industrial education work and has been conducted by the Government representatives in conjunction with the State Agricultural College. Luther J. Chapin, county agriculturist for Marion, and Floyd W. Rader, for Lane County, have been managing the contest at various fairs.

The girls of the Indian school team were proud of their achievements and received many congratulations from the crowds that visited the Agricultural College booths, where the contest was held.—Oregonian.