

During the time that Mr. Pendergrass has been on vacation Mr. S. S. Smith, of Corvallis, has been acting in the capacity of local agent for the Southern Pacific Company. Mr. Smith has proved efficient in every way.

Patrons of the Employes' Mess are grateful to Supt. Wadsworth for several large cluster electric lights which have been installed in the dining-room and hallway. Mr. Brace also comes in for a goodly share of their gratitude, as he put them in commission.

On the evening of November 14th several of our Alaskan pupils gave a show in the Auditorium to the presence of quite a crowd, who appeared well pleased with what they saw, according to our informant. Paul Kinnook took a prominent part in the entertainment.

It is our sad mission to report the death of Miss Ella McCully, a member of this year's graduating class. Immediately after graduation she went to relatives in New York, and it was there that the grim reaper found her a victim of the Great White Plague. Poor Ella! Many sincere friends will mourn her.

A trip to Southern Oregon for the purpose of hunting deer has been a habit with Mr. Pendergrass and is of annual occurrence. For three years, to our knowledge, he has made the trip and on each occasion he has brought home with him the carcass of a fine, fat buck. Members of the employes' Mess are again thankful to him, for they ate the deer. Some of us are already looking forward to his trip next year.

Of late everything has been torn up and upset at the power house by the removal of old machinery and the installation of new engines and other features. While it was impossible to avoid being inconvenienced, it has proved a hindrance to our shop as well as in other departments. However, we believe the worst is over and we hope soon to see all of the new machinery in place and running smoothly. The installation of two fine new Ridgway engines and motors ought to do the trick, eh?

Senator Harry Lane, who is a member of the Indian Committee, dropped in upon us suddenly without any warning on the 11th of November. He spent the day here and seemed much interested in various features of the institution. In the afternoon he made an address of unusual interest and ability to a large assemblage of students and employes gathered in the Auditorium. It was an able and straightforward talk. Chemawa felt proud to have the Senator for a guest and hope some day to have him call again.

Our Halloween dance was in the nature of a masque ball this year. Too much can hardly be said of the artistic decoration of the Gym. It certainly presented a beautiful appearance—everyone was pleased with it—and the credit is due to Mrs. Loos more than to any other
