

Mrs. Mann is now at home again after a second trip to a Salem hospital and we are pleased to be informed that she is making a steady recovery.

No doubt it will be of interest to many of our readers to learn that Mrs. Helen R. Witney is now postmistress at Wapato, Wash. Many will recall her as Miss Renner who in 1912 was a teacher in Chemawa. We wish her good luck in her new field.

A card received a few days ago from Chas. E. Larsen indicated that he was to tour for a couple of weeks with the Cushman Marine Band. The Sound country was first in the itinerary. They are to leave Tacoma on July 4th for San Francisco. Mr. Larsen is most likely with them as a solo cornetist.

Not long ago Professor and Mrs. F. A. McKenzie visited at Chemawa while on a tour of the various Indian schools of the country in order that Prof. McKenzie could study conditions in these institutions as an outside expert, he having recently been appointed and sent into the field by the Phelps-Stokes Fund. Prof. McKenzie was for ten years professor of sociology in the State University of Ohio. A short time ago he was elected president of Fisk University of Nashville, Tenn., and has accepted. Twelve years ago he was principal teacher under Supt. Wadsworth at Shoshone, Wyoming.

On Thursday evening, June 24, our Juvenile Band, a knickerbocker organization under the direction of Mr. I. S. Loos, played a program in Ye Liberty theatre, Salem, for the benefit of Mrs. R. G. Henderson. The vocalists of the band on this occasion were Misses Louise Deschamps and Alma Nelson. A large crowd of our people accompanied the organization to Salem on this occasion and the theatre was packed to the doors. Everything passed off nicely and the large crowd in attendance proved most enthusiastic in the reception of every number. Mr. Loos has reason to feel elated over the success of these little boys. Miss Brewer played the piano accompaniments to the vocal numbers.

Sylvester Long-Lance, the first full blooded Cherokee Indian to receive an appointment to West Point, is a member of the class which will be graduated from the Manlius school on Wednesday. Long-Lance has been a student at the school for three years and has stood high in his work and been active in athletics. He is a graduate of the Carlisle Indian School, which he entered when he was twelve years old, and sometime ago made up his mind to become a soldier. President Wilson became interested in him and several weeks ago Long-Lance received notification that he had been selected as one of the six presidential appointees to the United States Military Academy.—Syracuse (N. Y.) Herald.
