

Mr. Mitchell was a visitor at Siletz Agency during the Indian Fair held in August and has nothing but praise for all that he saw while there.

At an entertainment given recently in Chemawa Miss Gertrude Brewer and Miss Evelyn Woods again proved themselves prime favorites as pianiste and vocalist respectively.

A short time ago Mrs. Loos went to Portland in charge of several small boys who desired to see the city and to secure some clothing for themselves. It was a memorable trip in many ways for the boys.

Supt. Wadsworth recently spent a few days in the Neah Bay country attending business for the school. At the time of going to press he was planning to leave within a few days, accompanied by his family, for San Francisco to attend the great exposition for a period of a couple of weeks.

The state fair has again gone into history for 1915. Chemawa had a nice booth and was represented by the girls' canning club. Mr. Hobucket was in charge of our booth and made good in every way. On Wednesday of the fair week nearly every-one from Chemawa visited the grounds had a good time.

Mr. Frank Pendergrass is now taking a vacation and his place as agent for the S. P. R. R. Co. at Chemawa is being looked after during his absence by Mr. B. R. Wolfe of Portland. Mr. Pendergrass and a party from Amity, Oregon, are in Southern Oregon on a deer hunt. Every year this party goes into the wilds and invariably secure the maximum number of deer allowed by law.

The most complete and interesting volume of data relative to Indian matters which it has been our good fortune to run across is the output of the government census bureau, under direction of Samuel L. Rogers. The volume is entitled "Indian Population of the United States and Alaska." It is well worth while for any-one who is interested in Indian affairs to secure this concise and authoritative volume.

This year Chemawa extends a welcome to a number of new employees. Mrs. Nannie Willis came here from Carson school in Nevada and holds the position of head matron. Mrs. Lucy Land Ellis, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Helen, arrived from Flandreau, S. D., and holds a position as assistant matron. Mrs. Frances Evans, another assistant matron, is from Rapid City, S. D. Mrs. Sadie E. Culbertson is from Warm Springs, Oregon, and holds the position of assistant seamstress. Miss Marjorie Taylor is from the Carson school and is teacher of domestic science. Mr. Kirschner, the new dairyman, has his wife and daughter here with him—they are from Ft. Worth, Texas.
