

The job of adding to the concrete work is now confronting Mr. Sanders, who is putting on the finishing touches. Mr. Mitchell had the starting of the work.

Plowing and cultivating the soil is the order of the day on our farm. Quite a bit of seeding has been done already and work along this line is being prosecuted for "further orders."

From now until fruit of all kinds is set and a crop assured we will all be anxious regarding frost. On all sides we see evidence of Nature's awakening—the welcome assurance that Spring is near at hand.

If there is any truth in the old saw that "when March comes in like a lion it goes out like a lamb," or vice versa, it certainly seems that we should have a lot of pleasant weather due us the latter part of the month. March came in like Leo this time.

Quite a fine greenhouse is in course of construction. It will be quite a bit larger than the old one and will be located between the academic building and the hospital. A new greenhouse had become quite a necessity at Chemawa and Supt. Wadsworth was fully aware of the fact.

March 4th was "inauguration day" at Chemawa all right this year, for old King Snow was installed. To see an inch or two of snow in this section of the valley in the month of March is certainly unusual, to say the least. Snow this season no longer creates a sensation at Chemawa—children are used to it.

We are pleased to announce that through the courtesy of Dr. Buchanan, superintendent at the Tulalip school, on another page will be found a fine reference article which should be value to many of our employes, as well as the employes at other schools. The Doctor's citation of reference works is timely and is greatly appreciated by us.

Our boys and girls have been very successful in their athletic contests in competition with the teams of other institutions. It is the intention to make the next issue of The American an athletic number. We expect to publish a record of this year's activities in sports and athletic contests that will be very full and complete and we suggest that the coming issue be kept for future reference—not kept for a day, but for years.

The basketball season is over for the year and the players have all handed in their suits. In recognition of the fine showing made by the boys Mrs. Henderson invited all of the first team players, two subs, coach and manager to attend a supper given in their honor on Wednesday evening, March 8th. Those invited were all present and report a fine time, splendid supper and their everlasting thanks to Mrs. Henderson for her kindly consideration of them.
