

Mr. Emil Hauser has moved his family into the quarters recently vacated by Dr. and Mrs. Frachtenberg.

Mrs. Newcombe, formerly small boys' matron at Chemawa, again paid us a visit not long ago. She is looking well and is getting along capitally, she says.

On account of a great deal of unusual work necessary in preparing for our commencement it is quite probable that we will be a little late with our next issue—that of June.

The latest to join the ranks of Chemawa auto-owners are Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Smith. They recently purchased a fine Buick car. It is a dandy car—runs with as little noise as a watch.

During April Dr. C. D. Fulkerson was over from Warm Springs reservation, where he is now located, to visit his wife and son, who remain at Chemawa. Many friends were glad to welcome the Doctor during his visit.

Recently our Indian String Quartet played "return" engagements in Salem and Amity. Splendid audiences greeted the organization on each occasion and were amply repaid by hearing fine programs well rendered.

Since the announcements of the various institutes were printed, arrangements have been made with the railroad companies for a special round-trip rate for all those attending the institute at Chemawa from the states of Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Nevada and Montana. The rate will be one and one-third fare, under the usual conditions.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. William Lovelace passed through Chemawa a couple of times going to and returning from the home of Mr. Lovelace near Mill City. The father of Mr. Lovelace had died at the family home and this was the sad occasion of their visit. Formerly Mr. and Mrs. Lovelace were employed at Chemawa, where they have numerous friends, but now they hold positions at the Ft. Simcoe school, where they are getting along nicely.

On May 1st the "Grim Reaper" appeared to Mrs. Harry Mann at her home in Chemawa and her spirit departed from its earthly abode. For quite a long time she had suffered with that awful scourge, tuberculosis, gradually to grow weaker until the end. The remains were interred in a Salem cemetery and a large number of our people paid their last respects to the departed. Tuberculosis has been a merciless foe of Mr. Mann's of recent years and each and all of us give him and his family our fullest sympathy in the awful bereavement just visited upon them.
