

LOCALS

But one rain has occurred in this section since June. Pretty dry and dusty!

The hour for the Y. M. C. A. meeting has been changed from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m.

Invitations are out for a reunion of our ex-students at Chemawa during the holidays.

The little folks will have their turn at a Halloween masquerade party on Saturday evening next.

Chemawa plays the University of Oregon Freshmen Friday afternoon, next, on the school gridiron.

Lockers are being placed in Winona Hall for the 190 girls who occupy that building. The third floor is being fitted up first.

Chemawa employes subscribed for about $3,000 worth of Liberty Bonds on the second loan. James Crane, a student, purchased a $200 bond.

Canning of pumpkins is still in progress. The domestic science department does the "peeling" while the real canning is done in the main kitchen.

The frosts of the past few mornings have covered the campus with leaves and Mr. Ross and his boys have their hands full maintaining a clean campus.

It is learned in a letter just received that Edward A. Jaquins has been drafted and will be called at once. Mrs. Jaquins no doubt will join her parents at Chemawa soon.

Protestant church service on Sunday afternoon was conducted under the auspices of the Salvation Army. Good music and a helpful talk by the representatives were enjoyed.

Mrs. Hall was hostess to the Sigma Phi girls on Thursday evening in honor of Florence Lindell. Music and conversation filled a jolly evening. Light refreshments were served.

Mr. McLean, Mr. Swoboda, Mr. Ross and Mr. Carrow of the various departments, took their respective details last week and did a lot of "log rolling" on the new clearing north of the hog lots. All the worthless wood was burned.

The Sigma Phi's, as a result of the ice cream sales on Saturday night, turned over to the Athletic Association about $15. The boys appreciate this courtesy on the part of the girls. It's interest like this that makes athletics and other things go so successfully at Chemawa.

Every seat in the auditorium was filled at Sunday evening chapel. These exercises are of special interest for all. The orchestra played "Autumn Breezes," and the choir rendered "Loves Old, Sweet Song." The Superintendent in his talk emphasized the need of being economical.

The potato house is rapidly being filled with "spuds" for the year's use.

It is understood that Rev. Father Gall of the Catholic church is to cease his bi-weekly visits to Chemawa and that another priest will be sent in his place. Father Gall has been in charge of the Catholic work here for over four years. He is a zealous and social churchman and has given his best efforts to the work.

Very soon members of our Alumni Association will receive invitations to spend the Christmas holidays with us here at Chemawa in an annual reunion. We hope that all can attend and make merry with us on this occasion, but will appreciate notice from members as to whether or not it will be possible for them to do so. Now let all plan to be with us on Christmas.

Dr. Doney, president of Willamette University, in company with his wife and Professor Ray, visited Chemawa on Wednesday night last to address the student body. Just at the moment he was being introduced word came from the power plant that something had gone wrong with the electric generator and the students were marched to the dormitories, much to the regret of all. Dr. Doney will be here again soon.

A FINE CONCERT

Mrs. Maxwell, of Salem, a singer of considerable talent, very graciously gave our student body a song recital on Friday evening. She sang so sweetly that she was repeatedly called upon to respond to encores. Her accompaniments were most artistically played by Miss Gertrude Brewer. The program embraced the following splendid selections, some given by request:

The Kiss, Ninon, Carry Me Back to Ole Virginie, A Perfect Day, Somewhere a Voice is Calling, The Owl, I Dunno, The Crows Egg, Gay Butterfly, Deep River, Good-bye.

OUR ATHLETICS

In athletics Chemawa has always taken her place among the schools and colleges of the northwest and the feelings of a Chemawa man in looking over our record can be but those of gratification and pleasure. Wholesome athletics, one of America's distinctive school institutions, and a necessity to a boy's full, joyous life, are fostered at Chemawa for the reason that these contribute not only to the enjoyment of the students, but also to their moral and physical well being.

In various contests the boys receive valuable discipline in self-control and quickness of decision, and they learn how the manly man should carry himself under enthusiasm which victory brings, or when under the disappointment of defeat as well, as inducing a spirit of "fair play."
