

FOOTBALL NOTES

Out of the four games played Chemawa has tied three and lost one.

Coach Warner always has something up his sleeve. He still continues to give the team new, tricky plays.

The Vancouver team will outweigh our team about ten pounds per man. Our team averages 165 pounds per man.

Every member of the squad is in fine shape and it will be a good, strong team that represents Chamawa next Saturday.

Captain Peratrovich is a good pattern setter and his teammates have been following his example in the last three games. Always working hard and playing ball every second.

Last night the manager received a message from the 4th Engineers at Vancouver stating the weight of their team and the officials selected. Our boys play the Engineers next Saturday at Vancouver.

From all indications we are led to believe that the student body president is going to call a meeting and send the team to Vancouver with such "vim" and "pep" that will not soon leave them.

LOCALS

Rehearsals by the various classes are taking place for the Thanksgiving entertainment.

Mr. J. D. Rudd, secretary of the boys' work in Oregon and Idaho, made a brief visit at Chemawa last week.

Much interest is being shown by our girls in learning to knit. They devote every spare minute to their knitting.

The agricultural teacher, Mr. Daly, has his hands full these days teaching the various classes and supervising the work on the farm.

The lady employes' crochet club has changed its name to knitting club, and is now making woolen socks for Chemawa soldier boys.

Mr. William Towner has been a visitor at Chemawa this week in order to be near his son Gilbert, who is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

The harness department is making 250 book straps for use of the girls. The Winona girls have already been supplied and are very grateful to the boys of the harness shop.

A hard game of football is looked for when Chemawa plays the 4th Engineers at Vancouver Barracks, Washington, on Saturday next. Our men are in fine fettle and will represent the school to the very best of their ability. Russell Adams will play end in place of Mr. Hauser and Andrew White will fill Mr. Sanders' place at guard.

Mr. Roberson made a visit to Portland on Saturday on official business.

Healy Jones and David Forsman are the latest Chemawa boys to join the army.

Mr. Ross, gardener, is rapidly filling up the new hot house with plants and is arranging beds of new plants for early use next spring.

The heavy gusts of wind on Sunday night brought down showers of leaves and the yard force is busy raking them up and hauling them away.

Practically all of the older girls are making baskets of every shape and size to be used for the basket social to be given soon for the purpose of adding to the Christmas fund.

The general inspection of the entire plant on Wednesday of each week is proving to be helpful to the students and those in charge of the various departments.

As soon as the alarm of fire was given on Sunday evening Joe Bettles, a vocational dairy student, turned out all of the cattle in the dairy barn. Joe is a young man that acts upon his own initiative.

Mr. Freed, fire chief, who resides two miles distant, heard the fire signal on Sunday night and in a very few minutes thereafter arrived on the scene, having driven here in an automobile. He is a man of action.

Mrs. Brewer, so far, is the champion sock knitter at Chemawa. She can easily complete one sock a day besides keeping up her regular work. Were she to devote full time to the work she could supply a good many of our soldier boys with socks.

Mrs. Hall is meeting with the various vocational classes as well as with the several companies of the older girls at different periods each week giving them helpful talks. The girls appreciate their round-table meetings as they bring all concerned closer together and give an opportunity to exchange ideas and confidences.

A visit to Mitchell Hall any evening after study hour will find groups of young men in various rooms discussing the questions of the day, reading, studying, singing, playing some musical instrument, and devoting this hour to self-improvement. The home-like atmosphere and healthy fellowship pervading the quarters reflects credit on all concerned.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Cooper, principal and seamstress at the Tongue River school, have been transferred to like positions at Klamath, Oregon. They were given a farewell party by the employes of the school and a very pleasant time was passed with games and music. The school orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. C. E. Larsen, cornetist, furnished the music. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper were employes at Chemawa for many years. Mr. Larsen is a former Chemawa student and employe.
