FOOTBALL BANQUET

The annual football banquet, which is always of social prominence, was given on Thursday evening of last week. Covers were laid for sixty-five, including the football squad and their lady friends, together with a few employes.

The central section of the students' dining hall was used and the tables formed in the shape of a Maltese cross, all being beautifully decorated in Miss Skipton's artistic way, with potted plants, baskets of Oregon Grape and red Ashwood berries and bows of red ribbon, making a most pleasing effect.

The menu consisted of six courses, which was well prepared by Mrs. Brewer and her prevocational cooks. A bevy of girls and boys in complete waiter costumes, girls in black dresses and white aprons and caps, and boys in white trousers and jackets, under direction of Miss Skipton, faultlessly served the dinner.

Reggie Downie, student body president and manager of the football team, was toastmaster, who very ably made the opening speech and called on various members of the team and guests present for toasts. It was a delightful function and many compliments were paid to Mrs. Brewer and Miss Skipton for this enjoyable banquet. Before leaving the tables the toastmaster, in a neat complimentary talk, presented Superintendent Hall, on behalf of the team, with a large photograph of the varsity team, framed in black walnut, showing their appreciation for his interest and support throughout the season. Mr. Hall responded in a very feeling way.

THANKS

To the Indians who contributed to the Interior Department war work:

As Chairman of the Interior Department War Work Bureau, I want to express our thanks and appreciation to those of you who responded so generously to our appeal by contributing so many beautiful pieces of your handiwork. You no doubt will be interested in knowing that more than eleven hundred dollars were realized from the sale, which will be used for bandages and surgical dressings for wounded men.

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. JOINT MEETING.

Last Sunday the two organizations met in the auditorium and enjoyed one of the best and most helpful programs of the term.

The program was not only well arranged, and the topic a good one, but every-one on the list, in their response, showed much study and thought.

Irving Shepard, the leader and maker of the program, deserves much credit for the success of the evening. Following is the program rendered:
