CHEMAWA VS. SEASIDE

Tuesday evening Chemawa opened its basketball season by defeating the strong Seaside team from Astoria. Judging from the crowd and the rooting in the gym, the entire student body and faculty must have witnessed the contest. However, they were well repaid for their loyalty for their team "brought home the bacon" after a hard-fought game, by a score of 25 to 20.

Both the Seaside players and Coach Matthews of Willamette University, who refereed the game, complimented our boys on the good team-work and clean playing of the team. Reginald Downie, forward, went out of the game early in the second half on account of injury and was replaced by his brother Bob.

Intense interest and enthusiasm prevailed throughout the entire game, as each point was gained only after good, hard work.

Hardly a team comes to Chemawa which does not make some favorable comment about its well-kept campus and the excellent condition of the quarters which they visit. This team was no exception. They praised the boys' quarters and the delicious meals prepared at the domestic science by the girls for them.

We not only won the basketball game from them, but their respect and friendship, too. That's what counts.

REPORTER'S NOTES

By Robert Downie

Logan Fann and Edwin Gilbeau did fine work sewing the "Chemawas" on the suits of the 'varsity team.

Irving Shepard, treasurer of the Student Body, accompanied the basketball team to Portland on Wednesday last.

Last week the ninth grade class made a special study of light. This was an unusually interesting chapter in the physics book.

Wade Crawford, an ex-student, was recently married at his home in Klamath Falls, Oregon. We wish him the very best of success in his new life.

The afternoon chapel services before entering the class rooms prove to be very helpful and interesting. Each day one of teachers and a few students take charge of the meeting.

Henry Darnell, who recently joined the colors, was one of Chemawa's loyal rooters at the game in Portland last Wednesday night. He states that he will pay "dear old Chemawa" a visit before he is transferred to some other camp from Vancouver.

On Saturday our 'varsity basketball team will play the strong Mt. Angel team at Mt. Angel. A good hard and fast game is anticipated. Reginald Downie who was injured in the first game of the season has fully recovered from his injury and will appear in the game Saturday.

On Wednesday last our basketball team was defeated by the South Parkway team by a score of 29-10. The defeat is not nearly as bad as the score indicates, as our team was handicapped by the conditions of their gym. The other half of the story will be shown when the same team appears on our floor the 2d of February.

This afternoon our Junior basketball team will play the strong Mt. Angel Junior team at Mt. Angel. The Mt. Angel Junior team has not been beaten in the last four years. Last year they beat the Chemawa Juniors by a large score, but our team is going back with great enthusiasm and expects to return the compliments of last season.
