

LOCALS

Clyde Fields and Julius Frank left for Portland on Monday to work in a shipyard.

Now that the weather has moderated and the rain has ceased the ploughs are going regularly.

The orchardists have completed pruning the big orchard. Spraying is the next order of the day.

Mrs. Perkins left for Portland last week and is still in that city recuperating from her recent illness.

In spite of the new accounting system requiring so much additional labor, all accounts at Chemawa are right up to date.

The school has about 50,000 pounds of potatoes on hand, which will be sufficient to supply the pupils during the balance of the season.

The landscape gardeners have just finished planting several hundred rose bushes along the front of the campus. These bushes are two years old and should bloom this spring.

The Mandolin and Guitar Club made their first appearance at the entertainment last Friday night. The girls have been practising faithfully and have done remarkably well.

Mr. Roberson is arranging to stage a burlesque operetta, "Pocahontas," sometime during March. He will use thirteen students in the cast. The first rehearsal took place last evening.

Mrs. Daisy Wasson Coddling a graduate in nursing from Chester, Pennsylvania, hospital, has been appointed nurse at Chemawa. Mrs. Fulkerson will accept the position of assistant seamstress.

Mr. Galbraith has moved all of the pens at the hog lot nearer together, constructed feeding platforms and troughs and made improvements generally. Another lot of hogs will be ready for market during April or May.

A 7 1-2 pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Pendergrass last Saturday evening. Mrs. Pendergrass is now at Salem Hospital and we are eager to welcome the little new-comer when he makes his first appearance at Chemawa.

What is probably the last basketball game of the season occurred at McMinnville last Saturday evening between the College team of that place and Chemawa. The final score was 33 to 19 in favor of Chemawa. Joe Bettles refereed the game and he did it in his usual fair way.

The little folks enjoyed their regular party Saturday night in the gym. Through the thoughtfulness and energy of Mrs. Brewer ice cream and cookies were served as a surprise to the little tots and more delighted youngsters would be hard to find. The evening closed with a hearty cheer for Mrs. Brewer.

Word was received last week from Mr. Parker informing us that Mrs. Parker, nee Margaret Reinville, had met with an automobile accident. Her face was badly cut, but no serious injuries were sustained. His sister, Elizabeth, is with her in Portland. We are glad that Mrs. Parker is improving.

James Evans, a former printer on the American writes us from Metlakatla, Alaska, that he is now clerking for the Metlakatla Commercial Company, was recently appointed postmaster, and of evenings he is engaged as a "movie operator." How is that for keeping busy? We are glad to hear of his success and it makes our pride in "Jimmie" grow.

Frank Rosenberger, a one time pupil of this school and afterwards engineer at Tulalip School, was accidentally killed through an explosion of a gas tank at the Tongue River Agency, Montana, a few days ago. Mr. Rosenberger and Mrs. Newlove, teacher at Chemawa, were married about a year ago. Chemawa sympathizes with her in her bereavement.

The "hike" on Washington's birthday was an exciting affair. It was in the nature of a chase. Company A leading, in charge of Mr. Downie, and Companies B and C pursuing under Mr. Bent and Mr. Hauser. Company A scattered paper at every cross roads in order to indicate the direction. Company A retraced their steps however and eluded the pursuers entirely and returned home without being caught.

Russell Adams, a senior and one of Chemawa's all-around athletes, enlisted in the navy last week and left for Bremerton Navy Yard on Saturday. Russell joined the navy from a sense of loyalty and duty altogether. He was one of the most popular students and last year was awarded the prize for the best student at school. While we dislike to lose him we honor him for the stand taken and realize that he will live up to the best that is in him.

Last Friday evening a number of the boys at Mitchell Hall assembled and enjoyed what they called "the last supper" in honor of their friend Russell Adams who left the following day to join the navy at Bremerton. "Henderson's best," with lots of coffee, made a dandy big supper. Around the table sat this jolly little bunch eating and telling stories and relating past incidents until a late hour when all stole quietly to their own rooms. Russell had all friends here and we will miss him very much. He took an active part in all activities of the school and was a leader in all. Our best wishes go with him.

MCMINNVILLE-CHEMAWA GAME

Last Saturday our basketball team played its last game of the season with McMinnville College at McMinnville. The team played well and won the game with a 33-19 score. In spite of the fact that Russell Adams, one of our forwards, was missing, the team work and basket shooting was in no way short of its standard. The game was not a one-sided affair as the score would indicate, but each basket was registered after a hard tussel. The line-up follows: Reginald Downie, forward, Robert Downie, forward; Frank Chamberlin, center; George Nix, guard; Frank Peratrovich, guard.

Between our 1st, 2nd and girls' teams we played 15 games and have registered 376 points to our opponents 325.
