

3 MAY 8

COPY - 1956

I20
9/8

The Chemawa American

Printed at Chemawa, Oregon, and Devoted to the Interests of Indian Education

Vol. XX

Wednesday, March 6, 1918

No. 20

TAKE COURAGE

When you've worried and labored manfully
Over some bit of work today,
And every effort seems hopeless,
Try and strive as hard as you may,
Though the day for you has no brightness
And at night no moon or stars,
Take courage. At the blackest hour is the turning
Of darkness into light,
For tomorrow's glorious success
Depends mainly on today's bitter fight.

WHAT IS SCHOOL WORTH TO YOU

As our students near the completion of their course at Chemawa they naturally ask themselves the question, "Has my desire for an education been successful?" To this question there are many answers, which vary as much as the individuals do; but it is safe to say that most of the thinking boys and girls will realize that their education was not secured from books and industrial work alone. It is the all-round young men and young women who should feel most satisfied with their course. Now what do we mean by an all-round man? Here is the definition: If you have broadened morally, socially and physically, as well as intellectually, you have approached the all-round man or woman and have secured all that the world will ask of you. Success in the world depends entirely upon the course you take during these years. If you build a foundation that makes you an all-round man or woman success will be yours.

Those who have observed the pupils who have gone out from this school have noticed that the successful ones—and there are many of this kind—are they who took part in all school activities. It is true that not every student is fitted to take an active interest, and by that means help to achieve success. Those who have only a short time to remain in school will know whether they have gotten all from their course that was possible to secure. The new students may not feel the importance of this policy of being an all-around man; but all of the students after finishing their course in school will succeed or fail to meet the strenuous walks of life just as they have been active or inactive here.

Make it your aim, therefore, to fit yourselves in every way for life's battles, and to do this enter into every school activity with zest and vigor.

BRAVE BOYS OF CHEMAWA

Winona (Society) War Whoop

News from the front gathered by our own war correspondent, Veltha Frazier, and sent over specially leased wire to the Winona War Whoop:

Robert Alpheus lately sailed for Japan.

Martin Colby of the Marine Corps is in France.

Fred Charlie is in London serving under the British flag.

John Pablo sailed with Company K, 162d Infantry, for France.

Archie Lane is with the 175th Aero Squadron, Houston, Texas.

David Forsman, with Troop C, 7th Cavalry, is at Fort Bliss, Texas.

Allison Stone has been sent with his company to guard the Mexican border.

Sergeant Joseph Gale who is in the aviation department is somewhere in France.

Lawrence Frazier is stationed at Leon Springs, Texas, in the 20th Field Artillery.

John Victor Adams, Company K, 162 Infantry, is in the British Base Hospital in France.

Henry Burd, who was a star basketball player when in school, is serving his country in France.

Charles Eder, one of Chemawa's famous football players, is stationed at San Pedro, California.

Louis Tellier who joined the army last spring was one of the first Chemawa boys to go to France.

Nick Orloff, George Jackson and Clarence Adams are all on board the Marblehead somewhere out at sea.

Dan Johnson, on board the U. S. S. Cleveland, writes that he has been over to France and back three times.

John W. Beyers who was delayed last month on account of quarantine of his battalion has now sailed for France.

Earl Nuckolls, who was in training at Mare Island, California, has moved since last heard from. No one knows just where he is at present.