Reggie Downie is on the sick list this week.

Another five-week detail went into effect on Monday morning.

An epidemic of "three-day" measles has appeared at Chemawa.

Miss Peters was taken down on Monday with the "three-day" measles.

Life is so full at Chemawa that it is difficult to find an open evening for the movies.

Rev. H. C. Stover of Salem gave a most interesting address to the Protestants on Sunday afternoon.

On Sunday last, Christine Boswell, Agnes and Dorothy Kiernan, all ex-students, visited the school.

It takes 37 boys to operate the power plant, there being four shifts, in addition to the regular employes.

Mr. Galbraith is quite proud of the eighty new little pigs which have been added to his flock the past month.

The whir of the lawn mower is in the air and will be heard no doubt for the next six months. The grass is growing rapidly.

Mr. Daniel Smiley, of Mohonk Lake, New York, was a guest of Superintendent and Mrs. Hall on Thursday and Friday of last week.

Miss Ethel Waller, commercial teacher in the Salem High School, was the guest of Elwood Towner at the Excelsior party last Friday night.

Perry Whipple, who became eighteen years of age last week, enlisted in the Marine Service Monday, going to Portland for examination.

Since so many of our older boys have gone to war it is difficult to supply all the departments with sufficient help. We have the number, but not the size.

The curbing along the road in front of the campus is about completed. The masons have done good work. This curb adds no little to the appearance of the campus.

The second year vocational girls are now in the domestic science department for five weeks. First, third and fourth year vocationals are in the sewing departments.

The Reliance Society will hold their annual party on Thursday evening. Since the cessation of Bible study on Thursday nights for the time being this is an off evening.

Mrs. Teabo is laboring with the war bread question. Corn meal is the present substitute, but oatmeal flour has been ordered and expected daily. The bakery is turning out pretty good bread with the substitutes on hand and the students are endeavoring mighty hard to be patriotic, as some are not partial to corn bread.

The Winona girls are pleased over the new Mission furniture sent to their quarters last Saturday and wish to thank those who were responsible for their acquisition.

Mamie Frisk, fourth-year vocational, and Julia Mills, third-year vocational, are in charge on their respective divisions, of the dietetic cooking at the hospital this detail.

The 'varsity team journeyed to Eugene last Saturday and crossed bats with the University of Oregon team. Our boys were badly out of form and lost by a score of 10 to 4.

Plans are being made to put in a separate heating system for McBride Hall. Cheer up girls, you will have plenty of heat next winter, as the plant will be completed this summer.

Miss Mollie Mischell, assistant matron in Winona Hall, was suddenly called to her home in Montana on Saturday last on account of the death of her mother. She will return to Chemawa soon.

A lively game of baseball took place Monday evening after supper between the small boys' team and the girls', resulting in a score of 7 to 0 in favor of the boys. The girls say the end is not yet.

The Excelsior Society very kindly donated $5.00 to the Red Cross fund, taking it out of the amount collected by its members for refreshments. This was a very patriotic act on the part of the boys.

Mrs. Hauser is substituting in the students' dining hall during the absence of Miss Skipton, who is ill in Salem. Mrs. Brewer is also not well and the two departments are too much for her to handle alone for so long a time.

George Lekanoff, vocational carpenter, did splendid work in making the Mission furniture consisting of four large settees and eight big chairs, for the Winona Hall parlors. George is a painstaking workman and all-around good boy.

The eight little orderlies for the main office, matron, disciplinarian and principal, are kept busy flitting here and there at all times. The youngest orderly is little Julia Keeler and there are none more trustworthy or businesslike.

At chapel on Sunday evening the orchestra rendered "La Cinquantaine" by Gabriel-Marie. This was a beautiful number and much enjoyed. Edwin Rouselle gave a reading, "The House by the Side of the Road," in a strong, impressive manner. "Legends" was sung by the girls' octette, being the most difficult selection yet attempted by them and it was rendered very creditably. Chemawa is proud of this organization. The choir sang "Hail, Land of Freedom" in an inspiring manner. The program of the evening was concluded when the entire student body sang the school song, "Chemawa, We Hail Thee."
