fine delivery and an impressive personality backed by a profound mind and the sermon was one of unusual interest and instructiveness. There was a sincerity and unaffectedness of manner that appealed to all—and won them. As a matter of fact, the entire program of the evening was an unusual one and every number was excellent. The entire program follows:

BALL GAME

On the afternoon of Monday, June 3, there was a game of baseball played by teams representing the farmers and shop workers. The game was a most spirited one and there was no lack of rooters for either side. The farmers won by a score of 4 to 1. In reality the game was not so one-sided as the score would indicate. There was a good attendance and all enjoyed the event.

DECLAMATION CONTEST

At 6:45 in the evening the band played another enjoyable concert and there were many visitors in attendance. At the conclusion of the concert the visitors, faculty and students moved to the auditorium, where there was a declamation contest scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock. It is hardly necessary to state that the declamations were of unusual merit and in some ways there were pleasant surprises where least expected. Like everything of this character, all could not win and there were various opinions regarding those entitled to first honors. In all such cases there are individual ideas and the appeal to one auditor is not the same as it is to another—that is what makes differences of opinion and is why we have judges. The first place was given Thelma Orsen, a seventh grade pupil; Louise Demacon, another seventh grade pupil, was awarded second place, while Wade Minthorne of the ninth grade took third place. The contest provided an evening of interest and profit, as well as real enjoyment. Supervisor Roy H. Bradley of the Indian Service and Miss L. G. Guffin of Salem acted as judges. The entire program as rendered was as follows:

FIELD MEET

On Tuesday morning at 9:45 sharp the gun shot and started the 100 yard dash, the beginning of one the most interesting field meets ever witnessed at Chemawa. It was evident that a struggle was on to win the red and white banner to be presented to the winning class and the silver fob, backed by the school colors for the highest individual point winner.

It was a fine day for the meet, the track in splendid condition and the runners' alleys divided by white lines.

The large enthusiastic crowd that filled the bleachers was kept in a roar and on their toes by the nip and tuck races of the contestants throughout the entire meet. Class yells and class songs cheered the boys both before and during the contests. From start to finish it was a real class day meet.

After the fray was over and voices hushed the announcer read the following: William Johnson, highest point winner, 25 points; Francis Boyce, second, 24 1-3 points; Arthur Johnson, third, 21 1-3 points. The junior class won the meet, they registered 44 1-3 points; Eighth grade, second, 27 points; Third grade, third, 25 points. Following is the order of events:
