

LOCAL

Supt. E. L. Chalcraft was a welcome visitor on Tuesday.

Doctor and Mrs. Hailman left for Siletz on Monday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Jordan.

Superintendent and Mrs. Hall entertained the graduates and teachers after the class play on Thursday evening.

Canning of rhubarb commenced today. Strawberries come next, followed by loganberries and blackberries, etc.

Two large side-boards are being manufactured in the shop, one for the domestic science and the other for the teachers' club.

Mrs. Clarence Hunt Jordan, of Holbrook, Arizona, friend of Doctor and Mrs. Hailman, spent commencement week at Chemawa.

The classroom display in the third grade room, Miss Flint teacher, was splendid. It reflected credit on teacher and pupils alike.

On the morning after graduation the graduates, accompanied by Mr. Devol and Mrs. Risser, had a delightful picnic in the woods.

Miss Sarah Brewer is very busy since commencement routing pupils who are returning to their homes. She is very pains-taking, accurate, and always patient.

The first division of employes to take their annual leave will start on the 15th. Our people have worked faithfully, loyally and unselfishly and have earned a rest.

The following officers of the Y. M. C. A. leave tomorrow for the annual conference at Seabeck: Paul Liphart, Wade Minthorne, Logan Fann, Allan Shepard, Elwood Towner and Irving Shepard.

The Southern Pacific station at Chemawa is a very popular place these days, as every train—north or south bound—carries away some of our students. There is always a group of friends there to say good-by.

Supervisor and Mrs. Horace G. Wilson and two daughters stopped over at Chemawa one day during commencement. They were motoring from Roseburg to Camp Lewis to visit a son who is encamped there.

Mr. Roy H. Bradley, Superintendent of Construction, has taken a furnished house in Salem where he and his family are now ensconced. Mrs. Bradley and two children arrived Monday evening. They paid Chemawa a visit today.

Elwood Towner will finish his high school course in February next.

Mr. Turney has purchased a Ford touring car and drives it like a veteran.

Strawberries are now ripe. Company D, our little girls, started in to pick strawberries today and filled a good many dishpans with the delicious berries and to say that the student body enjoyed the berries for dinner and supper expresses it mildly.

On Friday afternoon the class of 1919, with Miss White, picnicked in the woods. This class made a resolution during the picnic to remain together as a class and graduate, and if they do Chemawa will have a class full of pep and go for 1919.

Crops of all kinds need rain badly. We have had no rain of any consequence since last March and unless Jupiter Pluvius favors us pretty soon the hay and grain will amount to but little in this valley. The berries and garden truck are already cut very short.

The teachers, Miss Flint, Miss Roberts and Miss Wootton, decorated the stage for each occasion during commencement. The taste displayed and artistic touches given rendered the effect most pleasing and beautiful. The writer takes occasion to compliment these ladies, for the beautiful appearance of the stage had much to do with the impression given at each entertainment.

Mr. Devol, principal, gave a dinner party at the club on Sunday previous to commencement. Covers were laid for fifteen including the class, Superintendent and Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Risser, Miss White and Mr. Devol. The table decorations were artistic and beautiful, consisting of red and white roses, Chemawa colors, with a touch of black, carrying out the class colors. The place cards was a work of art.

CHEMAWA'S SERVICE FLAG

The magnificent flag now adorning the auditorium was made under the supervision of Mrs. Alberta Fulkerson, who was faithfully assisted by Esther Jackson, Freda Liljegren, Christine Forsman, Henrietta Chamberlin, Sadie Knowles, Lillie Palmer, Clara Morais, Julia Gromoff, Effie Davis and Agnes Stewart.

This flag represents a great deal of intricate hand needle work and all Chemawa appreciates the interest manifested by Mrs. Fulkerson and these girls. It was made at a very busy time, just previous to commencement, when much extra work was being crowded in. In order to complete the flag they willingly worked overtime each day and were very proud to do so.
