

LOCAL

Have Dannie Dupuis tell you how he pops corn.

Agnes Morris left on Monday afternoon for her home Polson, Montana.

Many ex-students are expected to visit at Chemawa during the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Bent, disciplinarian, accompanied our football boys to Corvallis when they played O. A. C. last Saturday.

The Students' Buffet is doing a fine business. This will help a great deal when it comes to matters athletic.

The girls are working out in the gym every evening in order to develop a winning team of basketball tossers.

Mrs. B. F. Stevens, who brought her daughters to school recently, departed yesterday for her home in Dodson, Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlin are now domiciled in their new quarters on the south campus. Things are now quite home-like down there.

Loulin Brewer, who for a long time has been working in a shipyard at Tacoma, is expected to be home tomorrow to spend his Thanksgiving.

Mr. Devol addressed both divisions at school last Monday on the subject of "Don't and Why." His talk was of great interest to the students.

Mr. Moss, father of Della who has been ill for some time, has returned to Chemawa to be near his daughter. Della is slowly improving.

The rain on Sunday afternoon made walking abroad almost out of the question for the girls. However, some of them braved the elements anyway and took a stroll.

Miss Skipton went to Corvallis last Saturday to attend the funeral of her aunt. This sad errand attended, she remained until Monday ere she returned to school.

Every feature connected with the change and enlargement of our sewing-rooms is now completed and in place and things are going full tilt there. Everybody is happy.

On Monday morning the detail changed and this means a great deal to pre-vocational. A lot of new experiences will present themselves to them during the next five weeks.

An issue of uniforms has been made the small boys of Company E—28 members. We expect this company to march better from now on. The uniforms are quite nice in every way. In color they are a winterfield green.

Of late we have been treated to a lot of foggy weather—damp and penetrating. Every year at about this season we have a spell of similar weather. It is really our worst weather.

It does not seem possible, but it is true just the same, that we are shy on precipitation (rainfall) nearly two inches since September 1st. Old Oregon can wipe that out on short notice.

The Fort Stevens football team will play here next Saturday. This will probably be the last football game of the season for our team. Let everybody take an interest in this event and boost to beat the band.

Joe Bettles has been heard from within the past few days. He was home-sick when he wrote Mr. Bent. However, he is getting along well. He is now on his father's farm near Oak Harbor, Washington. We pick Joe for a winner wherever he may be.

Our boys are to be seen at all times, when they can get away, working for Mr. Withycombe, whose place lies to the east of the school a short distance. They do everything in the way of general farm and garden work. This means spending money for the boys.

All recruits for basketball ranks have been called to Chemawa's colors and the response has been fine. Active practice begins next Monday evening. It is expected that we will have a good season of games, as this is a most popular sport at all of the educational institutions. Our prospects for a good team are fine. Mr. Hauser will be the coach.

On last Thursday evening the employes of the school indulged themselves in a party. The social affair was held at the "Teachers' Club," and the rooms were most tastefully decorated for the occasion. Conversation and games provided entertainment and pleasure for all. The evening's enjoyment concluded with delicious refreshments.

It is now certain that the Vancouver Post Hospital Football Team will play our boys on the local gridiron tomorrow. The game will be called at 2:30. There is no way for us to tell just how "scrappy" this team will prove to be, but it is understood that they have fight in them up to their ears. They say they can take care of themselves. We'll see.

The boys are showing the right spirit and are busy in various ways trying to earn money for the basket social. This social will be held next Saturday night and will be under the management of the Sigma Phi Deltas. On this occasion it will be participated in by older students only. On the Saturday evening following a similar social will be held for the smaller students. The money that will be raised in this manner will be used for the children's Christmas.