O. A. C. VS. CHEMAWA

The basketball game between the Oregon Agricultural College and Chemawa on Thursday last on our floor resulted in a hard-earned victory for the visitors; score 27 to 25. Seldom have we witnessed a faster, harder or cleaner fought game. It was anybody's game until the final whistle was blown. Both teams showed class in their passing as well as in their defense. First one team would make a basket and then the other, keeping the score nearly even throughout. Hence the crowded galleries were keyed up to the highest pitch. Our team has shown much improvement in every respect. Mr. Emil Hauser is the coach.

FIRST YEAR VOCATIONALS ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

The first year vocational class in domestic science served a most delectable and well prepared dinner on Wednesday evening last. Covers were laid for twelve. The guests were received by Dorcas Minthorn and Rose Fisher, who acted as hostesses at the table. Seated also at the table and assisting in entertaining were Minnie Jones and Rosalie Lambert. The dinner was served by Myrtle Murree, Irene Curl, Anna Holst and Elizabeth Churchill, Mary Morgan, Millie Bennet and Delora Keeler. Each girl of the class prepared some dish included in the delicious menu.

Mrs. Vandagriff and her first year girls deserve credit for a splendid demonstration of the work now being taught. The guests were Supt. Hall, Mrs. Hall, Miss White, Miss Hendrix, Mrs. Canfield, Miss Wootton, Miss Carter and Mrs. Vandagriff.

REPORTER'S NOTES

By Allan Shepard

The garden detail is nearly through with the work of pruning in the orchards.

Annie Hall is reported as Mrs. Brewer's brightest pupil—on the kitchen detail.

Mrs. Ratzeburg and two sons are home again after a two-weeks visit with relatives.

Miss Emma Poorthunder was ill for a day or two last week, but is now herself again.

Review of mathematics is giving the seniors a touch of high life at this time.

A new stoker has been installed for furnace No. 4 at the power house. It is giving satisfaction.

Besides working on the new implement shed the carpenters have been busy of late in making furniture.

Mr. Welch recently removed the hedge of trivet from around his cottage. He intends to beautify the premises.

Miss Skipton reports in favor of the bread recently turned out at the bakery—and her opinion is sustained by the pupils.

Mrs. Rath, cook at the teachers' club, informs us that her sister and three sons are soon to arrive in Salem from the east.

The farmers have just finished plowing the field near the Oregon Electric depot. We understand that this field will soon be seeded to oats.

Joe Belgarde is in Georgia enroute to France. He recently met Russell Adams and James Thompson. The latter had just returned from France. All three mentioned above are Chemawa boys.

Pipes are to be laid over the lawns between the academic building and the hospital in order that water will be available to keep them fresh and green next summer. At present the ditch digging is in progress.

Mrs. Woods reports that for speed and all-around good work the present laundry detail beats any she has had this year. Such a report as this is most pleasing to hear. It should be the same in every department.

Everything being up-to-date in the laundry last week, in fact a little ahead of the schedule, work was started on a large washing order of overalls. This was something of an undertaking for Mrs. Woods and her detail.

On the morning after the basketball game last week the boys on the O. A. C. team remained here and visited the various departments of our school. They were a nice party of young men and we were pleased to entertain them.

William Andrews, a former pupil who is now in the navy, was last reported as on his way to China. Many of our boys are seeing a bit of foreign land as a result of the war. Alas! some had gone to that "bourne from whence no traveler ever returns."

Between halves of our games of basketball with the O. A. C. team last week Mr. Bent refereed a game between the orderlies and landscape gardeners. In some way one of our printer "devils" got slipped into the fold of orderlies. Despite all the devil's tactics the orderlies lost. It was some game!
