

LOCAL

Mr. Ross has joined the list of Chemawa's Auto Club. He is a recent purchaser of a Chevrolet—a nice car.

The dry sunny weather at present is enabling the farm and garden force to get in their crops. Every foot of the 440-acre ranch will be seeded to some profitable crop.

The third year vocational class of girls gave a demonstration dinner to invited guests in the domestic science department one evening last week. The hostesses on this occasion were Annie Miller and Agnes Stewart and the waitresses were Rose Hamilton and Rose Goff. The entire class prepared the meal.

Mrs. Risser and Miss Scholder entertained 24 of their Chemawa friends at a delightful function given in the club parlors one evening last week. Progressive games was the principal program, followed by delicious ice cream, cake and coffee, with Easter favors. Those present expressed their appreciation of a very pleasant evening to their gracious hostesses.

During chapel services last Sunday evening the orchestra played the "Melody of Love" by Engelmann, the Octet Girls sang a late war song entitled "When the Great Red Dawn is Shining," and Supt. Hall gave a splendid paper on "Loyalty," which we hope to publish in our next issue. Supt. Hall has just secured some new song books for chapel service and some little time was devoted to singing new numbers, to the delight of all. The songs in the new books are all splendid in every way.

There has been no happier occasion this year than the kitchen detail of girls and boys who were given a picnic supper in the woods at "Old Chemawa" on Saturday evening by Mrs. Brewer. A bountiful repast had been prepared. The weinies and steak were fried camp style, which, with the cakes, salad, coffee, pickles, buns and ice cream gave the students as well as guests, who were Mr. and Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Sherman and Mrs. Johnson, a fine "eat." Games were enjoyed by the girls and boys and a general good time was had.

Chemawa was well represented at the conference of the Cabinet Members of the Y. W. C. A. workers of colleges and high schools of the State of Oregon, which occurred in Salem, Saturday, April 12th, at Willamette University. Miss Eakin, the Christian worker of Chemawa, expressed herself as well pleased with the way in which the Chemawa representatives took their part in both general and the committee meetings. The girls were Annie Miller, May Belle Heay, Julia Gromoff, Veltha Frazier and Bertha Grimes. They are very enthusiastic in their accounts of the splendid meeting.

LITERARY SOCIETIES*Winona

The Winona Literary Society held their meeting on April 10th. After a short business session, a program was rendered, which consisted of a number from each of the six grades represented in the society. The program consisted of recitations by Maud Craig, Victoria Damon and Agnes Lambert. Vocal solos were given by Marina Nelson and Josephine Corbett. The program was closed with a snappy little dialogue given by Elizabeth Reinville and Bertha Grimes. Mr. Bent, official visitor, gave some very helpful suggestions to the society. After a few society songs and yells the society adjourned.

Nonpareil

The meeting of the Nonpareil Society held on April 10th was both interesting and instructive to members and visitors. Each member responded with a quotation to the roll call, as is the custom. After the business session a short but interesting program was rendered as follows: Song, Members; vocal duet, Irene Curl and Mae Filesteel; recitation, Laura Wan; oration, Louise Joshua; talk, "My View of the League of Nations," Alicia Kimball; closing song, Members. After a few suggestions from the critic the the society adjourned.

Reliance

At the last weekly meeting of the Reliance Society plans were made for the annual social, a challenge from the Excelsiors for debate was accepted, and a thorough rehearsal of the main numbers of an open session program covered the remainder of the evening.

REPORTER'S NOTES

By Allan Shepard

The painters have repainted the residence used by the farmer.

The farmers are now busy plowing the field adjacent the cemetery.

The tailors enjoyed a picnic last Sunday. They overran the woods east of the school.

During the past week quite a number of cattle were shipped to Portland from our school.

The farmers are plowing a part of the field south of the hog lot where it is the intention to plant corn.

The carpenters are placing box drains in the lake field in order to properly drain that field a little earlier than usual.

Of late the gardeners have been occupied at the task of planting onions. The place where the onions will grow this year is just east of Mr. Henderson's store.

Deacon Lawton was disappointed in going to his home at Katalla, Alaska. He got as far as Seattle, but was too late to catch his steamer so returned to Chemawa.

A considerable amount of work is being done at the dairy barn in the way of repairing and replacing drain pipes, etc., and getting ready for a good all-around whitewash party.

On account of sprouting it was necessary to sort over an immense quantity of potatoes of late in order to have good seed for planting. The potatoes not fit for other use were given to the hogs.

SENIOR NOTES

Monday morning in chapel Miss McDowell gave an interesting talk on botany.

The debate held last Friday during class period was won by the affirmative side.

A former classmate, Archie Lane, was recently transferred from West Point to San Francisco.

Elizabeth Reinville has proved to possess very good ability for writing poetry and adds to our long list of poets.
