SENIORS' EXTRACTS FROM COLONEL LEADER'S TALK

The Battle of the Somme was the first real battle for universal democracy.

"If you want to make a good citizen out of a Boche, begin with his grandfather."

The Battle of the Somme was the greatest battle of the world. Nothing has ever happened to compare with it.

"I believe that the Americans will never cross the Mexican border, but they will pick it up and carry it down to the Panama Canal."

"American boys, from U. S. A. in the Canadian regiment, were the first to go "Over The Top" in the great battle of the Somme.

"At the Battle of the Somme, for the first time in the history of the world, an army of citizen soldiers went up against a great professionally trained army."

"Who goes there?"

"Army Chaplain."

"Pass, Charlie Chaplain."

"Lafayette, the Americans have come!" This sentence will go down in history as one of the greatest speeches of the world war. It was made by General Pershing as he stood before the monument of Lafayette in France.

A big husky man came up to the recruiting officer and asked to join:

"How old are you?"

"Forty-eight."

"The age limit is thirty-six. Better go take a walk and think it over."

The man left and returned a few minutes later.

"I made a mistake, sir. I'm thirty-six. It's my mother that's forty-eight."

FRANKLIN ON THRIFT

Save and have.

Every little makes a mickle.

Little strokes fell great oaks.

A rolling stone gathers no moss.

God helps those that help themselves.

Spend one penny less than thy clear gains.

Look before or you'll find yourself behind.

The way to wealth is as short as the way to market.

He that waits upon fortune is never sure of a dinner.

Money can beget money, and its offspring can beget more.

It is foolish to lay out money in a purchase of repentance.

Learning is to the studious and riches to the careful.

Waste neither time nor money but make the best use of both.

Remember that money is of the prolific, generating nature.

All things are cheap to the saving, dear to the wasteful.

If you would be wealthy, think of saving as well as getting.

Beware of small expenses, a small leak will sink a great ship.

A penny saved is a twopence clear. A pin a day is a groat a year.

Gain may be temporary and uncertain, but expense is constant and certain.

Buy what thou hast no need of, and ere long thou shalt sell thy necessaries.

It is easier to suppress the first desire than to satisfy all that follow it.

He that murders a pound destroys all that it might have produced, even scores of pounds.
