At 9:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning a great throng of devotees of things athletic was on the bleachers to witness the various events of the inter-class field sports. For a couple of hours there passed one after another events of great interest and as one after another some favorite succeeded in demonstrating his athletic supremacy the air was full of all sorts of yips and yells. It was a great morning for the athletes and their supporters. The first year vocationals won the meet and a beautiful cup.

At 2:30 in the afternoon there was a game of baseball between teams representing the vocationals and the pre-vocational. Here was a battle to the death almost—it was Nip and Tuck for it. Nip got it with one tally to the good. The score at the end of the game was 5 to 4 in favor of the vocational. A large crowd was in attendance. For fans it was picnic time.

In the evening the Girls' Mandolin and Guitar Club, under the direction of Bandmaster I. S. Loos, gave a delightful musical evening in the auditorium. Much of the scenery had been painted especially for the stage setting on this occasion by Mr. Loos, and it may be stated emphatically that never has anything so beautiful been seen before at Chemawa in the way of stage effects. There was even a fountain of running water on the stage in full view of everybody. We cannot do justice to the many beautiful effects; but we more than suspect Mr. Loos is largely indebted to Mrs. Loos for his great success in making a picture of his stage on this occasion. In a musical way the concert was a delightful success. Every number on the program had been either especially written or arranged for the club and they proved the musical ability of Mr. Loos to be of high order. The pantomime, "Rock of Ages," was one of the particularly striking features of the evening. Here we submit the program as rendered:

March—C. I. S.
Military Medley—1918
Vocal Solo—Three Wonderful Letters From Home,	Hanley
MISS AGNES SWANSON
Waltzes—Jaqueline
Song and Dance—Lynnie Mae
Rock of Ages (Pantomime)	Hastings
MISS MARGARET CHAMBERLIN
Medley—Patriotic

On Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock the various departments of the school, both industrial and academic, were thrown open for general inspection by all—visitors and home folk. A couple of hours were in this manner most profitably spent. Much of interest and value was discovered by all.

At 2 p. m. there was a dress parade, in which all companies comprising the military body known as the Chemawa Battalion, both boys and girls, participated. It was a splendid parade and review. At the conclusion of the dress parade all repaired to the large gymnasium where there were exhibitions in physical culture drills by the various classes under the direction of Mr. George W. Bent, our disciplinarian and physical culture instructor. The exhibitions by the different classes were all of high order and reflected credit on both director and pupils. On the conclusion of work in the gym all proceeded to a spot on the campus just west of the administration building, where were held a series of competitive drills and exercises. These resulted in victory for Joseph Racine among the sergeants, Eneas Hines of the corporals and William Frazier among the privates. A competitive drill which occasioned much interest was what is known as the "bayonet drill." This was splendid and was won by Alex Petellen.

At 6:45 the band, under direction of Mr. Loos, gave a splendid concert, as they did during every evening of commencement with one exception. These concerts were most popular and drew large crowds every evening.

At the conclusion of the concert all repaired to the auditorium where a most pleasing program of a varied
