

LOCAL

The new building for employes will soon be ready for occupancy.

The Nonpareils are very happy in the possession of a handsome new pennant.

Ann Sexton recited an old-time favorite, "The Smack in School," at Sunday evening assembly.

Gus Welch, who coached the Washington State eleven to victory over the U. of California Bears, is an Indian, a Carlisle man.

Miss Carter who taught here for a part of last year is now teaching science and some mathematics in the North Platte high school in Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Turney, Mr. Loos and George Barrett have been solicited by Professor John R. Sites to become members of the Salem Symphony Orchestra.

The double bass solos by our Mr. Ruthyn Turney at last Sunday evening chapel services were a musical treat. Chemawa is indeed fortunate in being able to listen to one of America's most accomplished musical artists.

Mr. George Bent is a busy man these days filling the office of disciplinarian. At the present time he has 320 boys on the grounds to look after and no assistant on account of Mr. Loos being absent on school business.

Gus Welch, football coach for the Washington State College, dropped off at Chemawa on Monday to visit with Mr. Hauser and other friends. Mr. Welch is returning from Berkeley where his team defeated California on Saturday. He is a disciple of "Pop" Warner of Carlisle.

Chemawa plays Willamette University football team next Saturday in Salem. A large delegation of students and employes from Chemawa will be present to cheer the team on to victory. This will be the first football game between these two schools for a good many years.

One of the lady teachers in complimenting George Barrett on his ability in conducting the service over Dunniway Park at the rally, said she would like to engage him to perform her funeral service. George, always polite and accommodating, replied at once: "I'll be glad to do so any time," and George didn't wish the lady any harm either.

At Sunday evening chapel services the orchestra played "Gondelied" by Oesten, the choir sang "Beautiful City" by Cook, Ann Sexton gave a splendid reading of "The Smack in School," Mr. Turney gave the "Blue Bells of Scotland" and variations as a double bass solo, and Supt. Hall gave one of his very finest talks to the students. It was an evening of real interest.

Mr. J. B. Johnson, a friend of Chemawa for many years, paid us a visit a few days ago. We are always glad to have him call as he is both able and affable and his geniality does all of us a world of good. Chemawa never had a better friend or a more enthusiastic supporter than Mr. Johnson and we appreciate his kindly interest and thank him for it. When at Chemawa he was enroute to Los Angeles, California, to spend the winter. Colfax, Wash., is Mr. Johnson's home.

The Juniors held a lively class meeting on October 24th. After business was transacted an interesting program was given as follows: Current events, Ola Fairweather; mandolin solo, Katherine Loftus; song, Clarence Edwards, Edwin Liljegren and Lewis Colby; recitation, Louise Demacon; song, girls.

Julia Gromoff, who spent the summer months at Ketchikan, Alaska, returned to school last week. Julia came back expecting to enter the third year High in Salem and is much disappointed to find that Salem High will receive no new pupils. Sadie Knowles of Montana also arrived with the expectation of entering High. These girls will take special work at Chemawa in English and Algebra with the thought of being able to enter High next semester.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

Nonpareil

The Nonpareil Literary Society held their regular weekly meeting Friday evening in room seven. After the transaction of business a program was rendered which was very well prepared. A pleasant surprise for the members was the new Nonpareil pennant. Miss Scholder was official visitor.

Excelsior

The Excelsior Society met on Friday evening, October 24th. In the absence of the president the vice-president presided. After the business was dispensed a program followed. The most interesting part of the program was a debate: "Resolved, That no Indian School in the Union is Better than Chemawa."

Reliance

The meeting of the Reliance Literary Society was called to order by President Nuckolls on Friday evening, October 24th. After the business for the evening was dispensed, a splendid program followed. Mr. Sanders, an old member, was official visitor and gave us an encouraging talk. The meeting closed with songs and yells.

Winona

The Winona Society has organized into several groups under the different members of program committee and each group is responsible for the entertainment for a whole evening every third week. Last Friday the Rose group gave the program and there was an original story of Rose Fairies by Ann Sexton, a pretty Rose dance by Nellie Braden and several Rose songs including The Last Rose of Summer by the entire group. In addition Charlotte Bremer, Louise Gardipe and Ann Belgarde gave a dialogue and song in honor of Columbus month, Rose Fisher and Mable Blodgett each recited nicely, Lillie Dixon read some local jokes, Carrie Anderson, Freda Liljegren, Minnie Curren and Marina Nelson gave instrumental selections and four girls entered into an informal discussion of Work in Literary Societies. Mrs. Dale, the official visitor, spoke on the same subject very enthusiastically. Then songs were sung, necessary business completed and the society adjourned to the Student-body rally.
