SENIOR NOTES

The Senior boys out-shone the girls on St. Patrick's Day; those bright green collars made a startling show.

Much of the usual class period was used on last Friday for try-outs for the commencement activities.

Several Seniors have been helping out on the teaching, as Chemawa is suffering constantly from the universal dearth of pedagogues.

The domestic science seniors entertained the other members of the class and the teacher at a five-course dinner on the evening of St. Patrick's Day. The dinner room was beautifully decorated with the green and salads and deserts bore touches of the Irish tint. The four girls who entertained did not stop at the excellent food, but at intervals during the feast they sang the pretty Irish ballads. After the dinner several of the guests were called upon to entertain. Charles Williams and Marina Nelson each sang and Gus Gartiez recited his "Wop" selection so well that a second one was necessary. Rose Goff, Anna Miller, Marguerite Chamberlin and Ruby White were the hostesses, with Mrs. Brickell as sponsor. It was a most delightful entertainment.

WINONA HALL NOTES

The girls of Winona Hall are drilling now.

Ruby Stevens left today for her home in California on account of being ill.

The girls of Winona Hall are taking interest in keeping their building clean, trying to win the prize for the third year.

Miss Michell, the "barber" of Winona Hall, was real busy on Monday afternoon. Don't some of the small girls prove her work good?

The three-L chapter of the Y. W. C. A. are doing fine with their meetings. They hope to improve right along. Next week several of our members are going to sign the pledge card.

McBRIDE HALL NOTES

The McBride girls are sorry to have Louise Demacon leave.

Mrs. Cox' son, who has been ill for some time with the pneumonia, has gone to California for his health.

Marina Nelson, who has been sick in the hospital for several days, is improving and will be with us in a few days.

The McBride girls are all grieved over the departure of Miss Florence Gensaw. We hope that she may be able to return soon.

The McBride girls are being entertained this week by the sweet Hawaiian music which drifts with the breezes from the hospital.

The hanging baskets which were presented by Mrs. Hall to the McBride girls are greatly appreciated by them as it adds attraction to the front hall.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

Winona

The Winona society had a brief program on Friday evening consisting of songs by Anna Belgarde, Charlotte Bremner and Louise Gardipe, and by Ann Sexton and Irene Matt. Carrie Anderson and Nellie Braden gave recitations; Lily Dixon furnished local news and Frances Fitzpatrick read some local jokes. Rose Fisher told about St. Patrick and Julia Gromoff gave an interesting Indian legend. Mr. Kirk was the official visitor and offered some very helpful suggestions in his talk to the society. A short business meeting closed the session.

Excelsior

The Excelsior Literary Society met in their usual meeting place last Friday evening. An opening address was given by the President; Cruse McDaniels gave a trombone solo; Frank Corbett told some up-to-date jokes; William Hoopen gave some riddles, which were followed by a song by the Society. An open house debate was then held, a good many of the members putting up some good arguments. The meeting was closed with remarks by the advisor.

Y. M. AND Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The Senior Y. W. C. A. girls have been conducting a very interesting poster campaign during the past week in McBride Hall. They have featured a series of posters on "Correct Shoes," "How to Stand" and "How to Walk."

The L. L. L. chapter of the Y. W. C. A. now has 46 members. The girls were delighted last Monday night with the gift of thirty new Bibles from Superintendent Hall. They have recently ordered fifty new song books which will make their meetings very attractive.

The Y. M. C. A. Mission Study Class has just completed the text book, "Ancient Peoples at New Tasks." This has been a discussion of the industrial problems of South America, Japan, China, and India, and their relation to the missionary program of the church. The members of the class will give a review of this book next Sunday night at Y. M. C. A. meeting.

Rev. Harold F. Humbert, General Secretary of the Oregon Sunday School Association, gave a splendid talk before a joint meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.s last Sunday evening. He spoke on "The Story of the Bible." Mr. Humbert is a great favorite with Chemawa students, and he says they are the most interesting audience he has in the state.
