The new library is ready for occupancy. The books will be moved soon.

Miss Julia Fratis has entered upon duty as assistant matron at Winona Hall.

Chemawa is badly in need of a hospital cook. The place pays $60 per month.

Robert Downie is acting night watchman during the vacation period of Mr. Hauser.

Mrs. A. D. Dodge, of Neah Bay Agency, brought in a party of nine pupils on Sunday morning.

Miss Esther Sprague, field matron, escorted a nice party of students to Chemawa from Yakima reservation.

Elizabeth Montgomery and Louise Silverthorne have entered the Good Samaritan Hospital in Portland to finish their training for nurses.

Mr. Kirk had the misfortune to have his automobile badly injured last week. He was run into by another car while on the Pacific Highway.

Mrs. Brewer suffered a slight accident on Sunday by over lifting. We are glad however that it is not as serious as first thought, and she will soon be her normal self.

Mr. Woods, who had a stroke of paralysis while visiting at his daughter's home at Oswego a week or so ago, was moved to his residence at Chemawa. He is doing well.

Edna Doughty was called to Seattle the other day to be with her mother, who was injured by being struck by a street car. Both feet were cut off by the wheels. Her recovery is doubtful.

Julia Gromoff, '19, Marguerite Chamberlin and Effie Davis, '20, returned the past week and have entered the Salem high school, Julia as a senior and Marguerite and Effie as juniors.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich of Salem, accompanied by Mrs. Cooper of Los Angeles, were interested visitors at the students' social Saturday evening, calling later on Mrs. Jaquins at the superintendent's residence.

Work is progressing on the new machine shop. There are sixteen different machines on hand to be installed when the building is finished, which will afford a splendid opportunity for our boys to become efficient machinists.

Mr. Adolph Farrow and family recently motored to Chemawa from Adams, Oregon, for a short visit with friends. They were enroute to Sacramento, California, for a visit with relatives. Both Mr. and Mrs. Farrow are ex-students of Chemawa. Mr. Farrow was harness maker here for seven years. They now have extensive land interests in Eastern Oregon and are doing well.

Mr. Mason and a force of boys have manufactured cement walks leading to the new library as well as connecting up the walks along the railroad on the east side. A piece of walk was also completed between the new cottages and auditorium.

Mr. Willie Winnier, of Toppenish, Wash., brought his daughter to Chemawa last week for enrollment. Mr. Winnier formerly attended school here, leaving sixteen years ago. He was amazed at the magnitude of the school, its growth and great improvement.

Students have been arriving on every train the past week, and Sunday eve chapel showed a full house. Chemawa's student body is practically complete again, and many compliments are being heard on all sides as to the splendid quality of our students this year.

The improvements made this summer in the enlargement of the domestic science rooms has added much to the efficiency of that department. Mrs. Brickell and her classes appreciate this change and plans are made educationally for a splendid year's work.

Alicia Kimball, class of '19, was married recently to Mr. Oscar Walters, who has accepted a position at Chemawa in the agricultural department. Alicia is continuing her studies at Willamette University, her course was interrupted last year by the illness of her mother.

The kitchen force have had an unusually busy time lately putting up 30 or 40 barrels of sweet corn, 8 or 10 barrels of kraut, as well as quantities of pickles, apple sauce, and prune butter. Our preserving department under Mrs. Brewer saves thousands of dollars annually in the way of caring for our vegetables and fruits which otherwise would go to waste.

Jos. W. Purns made Chemawa a brief visit one day last week. He was accompanied by his wife and they were motoring back to Ft. Defiance, Arizona, where they are employed in government service. Mr. Purns is a former Chemawa student and it is a source of gratification to find that he is getting along so nicely. Before visiting Chemawa Mr. and Mrs. Purns had renewed acquaintance with relatives and friends at Yakima, Wash.

Mrs. Jaquins has been the inspiration for several most enjoyable social affairs during the past week. Miss Scholder, Mrs. Risser and Miss White were hostesses to a number of the campus people on Tuesday evening, and Mrs. Sherman, Mrs. Vandagriff and Mrs. Cox on Wednesday eve; both affairs were delightful. Mrs. Jaquins will leave soon for her home in Los Angeles and several other functions are being planned for her this week.

The chapel services last Sunday evening were, as usual, in charge of Supt. Hall. The orchestra played "A Dervish Episode" by Cohen, Roy Nuckolls gave "Keenan's Charge," George Barrett played a "Melodie" by Ole Bull as a cello solo, the choir sang "Forth from the Dark and Stormy Sky" by Briggs. Mr. McAfee, secretary of a conference of Portland churches, was present and gave the principal talk of the evening. All in all the exercises were good and the evening was one well spent.
